East End Youth Killed As Trespasser

Rail Worker Ends 'Feud' With Pistol

Bernard Dawson, 20, Dies Of Wound After Encounter At Creek

An East End youth whose father was killed by a train three weeks ago was shot to death late Friday afternoon after another argument with an employee at the Pittsburgh Coal Co. docks on Beaver Creek.

Bernard Albert Dawson, who would have been 20 next month, died at City Hospital at 6:10 p. m. about half an hour after he was admitted still conscious with a bullet wound through his stomach.

About the same time, Angelas Russis appeared at the East Liverpool Police Station, handed over a paper-wrapped gun and said he "shot a man".

The bullet from the Spanish make .380-caliber automatic entered Dawson's body at the left side and came out the right after piercing his stomach and possibly his liver, according to Columbiana County Coroner Ernest Sturgis.

The coroner said the victim died of internal hemorrhages.

Apparently, the shooting was a tragic climax to a Summer "feud" between the husky Crucible Steel Co. worker and the slightly-built trackwalker and watchman at the river-rail terminal.

Russis complained to Police Chief L. J. Wise last May that Dawson had attacked him when ordered from the coal property while trespassing.

In this encounter, Russis ordered Dawson and two companions from the property but the youth struck him and knocked him down.

He continued beating him until Dawson's friends asked him to stop, according to Lieutenant John Russell.

Dawson went to the creek frequently to swim and usually walked the tracks of the Youngstown & Southern Railroad to reach a swimming spot about 200 yards up the creek.

Russis claimed Dawson tore down several no-trespassing signs on these trips and dared the elderly watchman "to do something about it," police were told.

The same situation occurred yesterday afternoon. Dawson and a companion, Albert Tiberio, 16, of 349 Midland Ave., Midland, had been swimming near the docks when they decided to go fishing.

They crossed the railroad tracks to reach a spring for a drink and to dig for worms when Russis accosted them, Tiberio told Pennsylvania police.

Russis ordered them off the tracks and Tiberio said he turned to go but Dawson advanced on the watchman. It was then that Russis pulled out his gun and fired once.

Two fishermen, Charles R. Windle, 1931 Ohio Ave., and Raymond Dailey, 14, of 1509 Globe St., and William H. Price, master of the towboat that shunts barges into the dock, heard the report of the gun.

They found Dawson toppled over the creek bank with blood pouring from his side.

Price, employee of the Valentine & Todd Towing Co., called Midland police, who summoned the Dennis Funeral Home ambulance. The three accompanied the youth to the hospital. He was admitted about 5:35 and died half an hour later. The shooting occurred about 5:10 police said.

Russis meanwhile went to the highway and got a bus for East Liverpool. He went first to his room at 139 Rural Lane, where he obtained his hat, then going to the police station.

Russis talked freely, admitted the shooting and said he feared being "beaten up again." The prisoner told of being taunted by Dawson on several encounters and

Old Home Week Fete To End Tonight

East Liverpool's third annual Old Home Week celebration ends tonight and the weatherman warned of possible showers that would dampen the final merry-making in the week-long event.

Attention centered on the annual Orange Crate Derby this afternoon on Bradshaw Ave., the final special event in the celebration that began Monday night. Programs were held almost nightly.

Tonight's entertainment will occur on the carnival midway on East Second St., where amusements and rides and a variety of concession stands and booths operated by participating groups will provide the final fun.

The celebration has been sponsored by the Fraternal Order of Police Associates, assisted by the F. O. P.

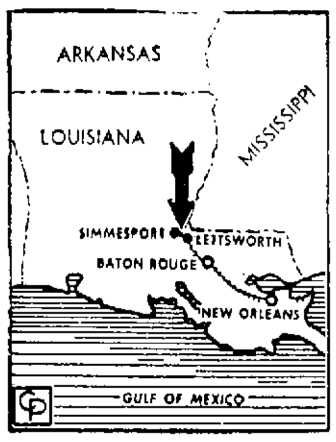
INOCULATE THOUSANDS. Nurses and doctors inoculated nearly 5,000 persons after a farm woman was stricken with smallpox at Reedsburg, Wis. They planned to vaccinate 7,000, but had to halt temporarily when the supply of serum was exhausted. Some of the men, women and children lining up in the high school gymnasium for vaccinaions are seen here.

Ignored Signal Blamed For Railway Crash

Hearing Due Soon In Louisiana Accident That Kills At Least 8

SIMMESPORT, La., Aug. 11 (AP)—Plans were made today for an official investigation into the cause of a high-speed, head-on train crach in which eight men died in flaming wreckage, about 60 other persons were injured and one Marine is missing.

Dr. J. C. Roberts, coroner of Pointe Coupee parish (county) said he will conduct a hearing soon to establish a verdict on "where the fault lies".



Where rail tragedy struck.

He said the crash was caused by a "garbled, forgotton or ignored message" received by the crew of a Marine troop train that plowed into the on-coming Kansas City streamliner, the Southern Belle. The crash occured about 8 a.m. yesterday some 60 miles northwest of Baton Rouge.

R. R. Sutter, superintendent of transportation of the Kansas City Southern that operated both trains, said the troop train's crew ignored an order to side track their train for the streamliner.

"Just why the crew of the troop train failed to switch it to the side track is something we may never know since most of those who might be able to give some reason are already dead," Sutter said.

More than 50 persons, 26 of them Marines, are hospitalized at Morganza, New Roads, Baton Rouge, Marksville and Camp Polk, La., and one Marine was flown to the Brooke Army Hospital at Fort Sam Houston, Tex.

Two hundred crewmen worked through the night to clear the tracks.

So terrific was the force of the collision that witnesses expressed surprise any one escaped alive.

"If it had not been for the Marines, I don't know what the (civilian) passengers would have done," said Ray J. Marran, executive secretary of the Kansas City (Mo.) Fire Department. He and his wife were passengers aboard the Southern Belle.

Stored Grains To Save Day In Crop Deficits

Midwest Floods Cut Production Outlook For Corn And Wheat

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP)—Big government wheat and corn stores may make the difference this year between food shortages and plenty.

The grains were brought in previous bumper years under a price support program. Some officials had wondered what they were ever going to do with the onetime surpluses.

But an Agriculture Department crop report yesterday indicated that floods in some places and drought in others have converted a potential problem to a benefit.

The most serious shortages—without the stored grains—would have been felt in livestock feed grains, especially corn.

While a somewhat larger crop of corn than last year was forecast, the volume would not be large enough to maintain the current high level of production of meat, dairy and poultry products.

But a reserve of about 750,000,000 bushels of corn will make up the deficit in this year's crop, now forecast at 3,207,000,000 bushels. The government had set a goal of 3,375,000,000 bushels.

Similarly with wheat. A reserve of about 375,000,000 bushels will give the nation an ample supply of the bread grain despite the fact this year's crop is indicated to be the first one below 1,000,000,000 bushels since 1943. The wheat crop was put at 998,000,000 bushels, compared with 1,026,000,000 last year.

Weather factors, principally floods in the Midwest, cut production prospects for both corn and wheat during July—88,000,000 bushels and 72,000,000 bushels respectively.

In some other sections of the country dry, hot weather adversely affected some crops.

201,544,000 Bushels Of Ohio Corn Seen

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP) — The 1951 Ohio corn crop was forecast by the Agriculture Department yesterday at 201,544,000 bushels and the Winter wheat crop at 34,308,000 bushels.

The average per acre corn yield was estimated at 56 bushels and the Winter wheat average at 18 bushels.

The indicated yield per acre and production, respectively, on other important crops in Ohio included:

Oats—41 bushels per acre and production 50,307,000 bushels.

Soybeans for beans—22.5 bushels and 24,728,000 bushels.

Tobacco—1,286 pounds per acre and 26,100;00.

Sugar beets—10.5 per acre and 147,000 tons.

Apples—commercial (production only) 4,675,000 bushels.

Potatoes—200 bushels per acre and 6,200,000 bushels.

B-29's Blast Communist Bases Again

Supply Centers Hit; Fighting On Ground Slowed Up By Mud

KOREA, Aug. 11 (AP)—Fifteen U.S. B-29's today blasted Communist supplies stored near Red-held Hungnam on the east coast of North Korea.

Sighting by radar, the Okinawa-based planes rained more than 2,000 bombs weighing 100 pounds each on the targets. The planes encountered no anti-aircraft fire or enemy aircraft.

In the week ended today, U. S. Fifth Air Force planes flew 2,700 sorties over Korea. 385 of them directed at rail and highway routes in Red territory. Pilots reported they destroyed 296 Red supply vehicles and damaged 500 in the week.

U. S. Marine fighters and Air Force light bombers spotted more than 2,000 enemy vehicles on Red supply routes last night.

Aided by flares, the Allied pilots inflicted "substantial damage" on the enemy supply trains, the Air Force said. It was the second successive night heavy Red traffic was spotted.

Mud bogged down ground fighting in the west. Patrol action was spotty in the central section, but bitter local fighting raged in the east for control of three hills southwest of Kansong.

The 1,200-to-1,500-foot hills dominate the northern road out of Inje to the mountain fastness south of Wonsan, beleaguered east coast port.

United Nation troops gained control of one hill, but an enemy counter-attack supported by mortar and artillery threw Allied forces off another hill. The fate of the third hill was still in doubt Friday midnight as a U. N. force attacked from three sides.

Australian Meteor jets sighted enemy MIG's in northwest Korea twice, but the Communist pilots refused combat.

One U. N. F-80 Shooting Star jet was shot down by enemy ground fire.

The North Korean Red radio at Pyongyang said tonight the North Korean foreign minister protested to the United Nations today that Allied forces used poison gas against Communist troops in Korea twice this month.

The North Koreans have made similar charges before. They have been denied by Allied officers.

Ike Chats With The Boys

Big Jet Base In Germany Praised By Eisenhower

FUERSTENFELDBRUCK, Aug. 11 (AP)—General Dwight D. Eisenhower, arriving in Germany for a nine-day combined vacation and inspection tour, told U.S. airmen at this big jet base today: "I would like to be an airman on this field."

"I have seen American fighting men in all parts of the globe, but I have never seen a base more attractive than this one," the Atlantic pact commander said.

He spoke briefly to 500 members of the 36th Fighter Bomber Wing and their families lined up to greet him at this former Luftwaffe training base.

Sunburned and smiling, the general yanked off his cap to watch a dazzling display of aerial acrobatics by the "Skyblazers"—a four-man jet team flying F-84's.

He spoke enthusiastically of their performance to Colonel Robert L. Scott, the wing commander, then drove along a long line of jets lined up for his inspection.

Eisenhower stopped his car before one plane and got out to talk with the pilot, who was standing rigidly at attention with his red crash helmet tucket under his arm.

The pilot, Second Lieutenant Robert W. Merck, 23, of Bishopville, S.C., told the general that he recently had been forced to ditch his plane in the Mediterranean when the engine failed.

"Don't make a practice of that," Eisenhower replied, smiling.

Returning to the flag-draped speakers' stand, Eisenhower stopped to chat with a group of airmen.

"What's your name?" he asked one.

"Sergeant Carl E. Unruh of Emporia, Kansas," was the reply.

"I'm from Kansas, too," Eisenhower said and shook hands with the sergeant.

Eisenhower was greeted by Lieutenant General Lauris Norstad, commanding general of U. S. air forces in Europe; Major General Truman H. Landon, Norstad's chief of staff, and Major General Dean C. Strother, commanding general of the 12th Air Force.

He was accompanied by Mrs. Eisenhower and her mother, Mrs. John S. Doud.

The general is scheduled to inspect American Army units in Germany Monday and Tuesday.

Missouri Base Delays O.K. Of Military Bill

Legislators Argue Over Installation In Truman's County

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP)—A squabble over a proposed Air Force installation in President Truman's home county in Missouri temporarily has delayed House action on a record $5,768,000,000 military construction bill.

The House may reach a vote next Tuesday on the measure, which aims chiefly at keeping the United States safe from any Russian atomic attacks.

But first the House must take a roll-call vote on a $19,019,000 project to expand the Grandview (Mo.) airport in Jackson county, near the Truman family home in Independence.

The project is part of the military construction bill and was approved by the Air Force and the House armed services committee.

It would permit the transfer of the Contenental Air Command from Mitchel Field, Long Island, to Grandview—an Air Force proposal aimed at strengthening the Air Reserve and Air National Guard programs.

Connally Warns Against Slash In Military Spending

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP)—Senator Connally (D) of Texas said today that Congress can't provide for a build-up in the free nations' defense strength and cut military spending at the same time.

His comment was made to a reporter as he announced that the Senate foreign relations and armed services committees will go to work Monday on revising the $8,500,000,000 foreign aid authorization bill.

The House foreign affairs committee has sliced $651,000,000 from the total. Connally, however, said he believes any sizable reductions made by the Senate committee must come out of the economic aid.

"We have to build up military defenses and we can't run down on military spending at the same time," he declared.

The bill pending before the Senate committees would authorize $6,300,000,000 in military outlays and $2,200,000,000 in economic assistance to the free nations.

Driver Fined After Wreck

Illinois Woman Hurt In 3-Vehicle Crash

An Evanston (Ill.) woman was injured slightly in a three-car accident Friday at 10:15 p. m. and a driver was fined $10 and costs as one of two charges growing out of the collision.

Mrs. Bertha May Thompson, 60, was treated at City Hospital for strained muscles on the right side, received when her auto and another in line in front of her were struck by a third machine at Market and Third Sts.

Police said Henry A. Hurd, 46, of Pittsburgh, swung over the center line as he made the turn from Third onto Market, and hit the two autos waiting for the traffic lights.

In Municipal Court this morning, Hurd pleaded guilty to a charge of intoxication, for which he was fined $10 and costs, and entered a not guilty plea to a second charge of reckless driving. This case was continued until next week.

The auto in which Mrs. Thompson was a passenger was driven by Oregon J. Wright, 43, of Evanston, and the third machine was operated by Vernon E. Borden, 47, of Flint, Mich., police said.

Patrolmen R. E. Carroll and L. A. Stuttler made the investigation and arrest.

Another minor accident was reported Friday when autos driven by Mrs. Ruth C. McNutt, 926 Orchard Grove Ave., and Ray D. Givens, 45, of R. D. 2 collided at 5:05 p. m. at Orchard Grove and St. Clair Aves.

Allies Hold Up Final O.K. On British Rifle

Question Whether Rapid-Fire Weapon Has Enough Power

WARMINSTER, England, Aug. 11 (AP)—Great Britain took the wraps off her new rapid-firing .280 rifle in impressive tests yesterday, but she failed to convince western military men that it is the best weapon in its field.

The stockless weapon that looks much like a sub-machine gun was put through its paces before some 200 military attaches and 50 reporters.

The tests showed the new gun can be fired faster than either the United States' semi-automatic .30-caliber Garand or the old British .303 bolt-action Enfield, but lacks their penetration and shocking power.

The new weapon will be thoroughly checked, however, by a committee of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The group will report its findings to the Atlantic treaty foreign ministers this fall and they will decide whether to adopt the gun for pact nations. At present the Garand is top nominee for the infantry weapon in proposed standardization of western arms.

In yesterday's tests the new gun poured out 84 shots a minute, compared to 43 for the Garand and 28 for the Enfield, but its penetration through wood proved slightly less than the American gun.

The odd-looking machine has a small metal butt in place of the conventional stock and carries a telescopic sight.

American observers objected to the new weapon on grounds that the ammunition it uses is too light to go up against enemy armor.

It also pointed out that the complex mechanism of the gun has not yet been tested under battle conditions and no one knows yet how production models will stand up.

Final decision of whether to put the new gun into production as the official British infantry weapon still has not been made. British generals indicated it may take "some years" to tool up and produce enough to equip British soldiers.

Meanwhile, in Ottawa, the Canadian defense ministry said the western Allies have accepted a new anti-tank shell being made in Canada as a standard weapon.

The shell, called the Sabot, was described as the "last word" in armor-piercing effectiveness. It is being produced for the 17-pounder anti-tank gun, but can be made in various sizes.

Delay Early Peace Move, Joy Charges

Nam Appears Angry After U.N. Chief Rips Into Enemy Stand

MUNSAN, Korea, Aug. 11 (AP)—Vice Admiral C. Turner Joy told the Communists in strong terms today they have "slammed the door on every attempt to make progress" in the Kaesong cease-fire talks.

The senior United Nations envoy aimed his words directly at Lieutenant General Nam Il; chief Red delegate, for Nam's inflexible stand on the 38th Parallel as the only cease-fire line acceptable to the Reds.

"You did not come here to stop the fighting," Joy declared.

"You did not come here to negotiate an armistice. You came here to state your price—your political price for which you are willing to sell the people of Korea a temporary respite from pain.

"You have engaged in these conferences only to present demands, not to negotiate a solution."

When Nam left the conference room at the end of the day's session observers said he was "apparently angry".

Brigadier General William P. Nuckols, an official spokesman, said Joy departed from his "normally well-tempered, coldly-logical phraseology" in his most "vehement" attack yet on the Communists.

Nuckols said the negotiators wrangled for two hours and 20 minutes and reached only one agreement—to meet again tomorrow at 11 a. m. (9 tonight, East Liverpool time).

Joy's blast apparently followed his failure to reach any sort of compromise agreement with the Reds.

The communique said the Reds "brusquely rebuffed" the admiral's suggestion that they indicate on a map their concept of a buffer zone "based on the present battleline and the over-all military situation".

Nam and his fellow Reds stood pat on the "single and inflexible" demand that the line be based on the 38th Parallel, old political dividing line between North and South Korea.

Joy's blunt words came in the afternoon session. He spoke for 36 minutes, then proposed a recess until tomorrow.

In agreeing to meet again Sunday, Nam said he will continue to insist on the 38th Parallel as the military demarcation line.

This parting shot forecast another session of fruitless argument.

Red Writer Knows 'Exactly' Where Allies Want Line

MUNSAN, Korea, Aug. 11 (AP)—A Communist newsman at Kaesong today said he knows "exactly" where the United Nations command wants to draw a cease-fire line in Korea.

A pooled dispatch said Allen Winnington of the London Daily Worker outlined it this way:

The northern edge would start at the village of Soari, 51 air miles due north of the 38th Parallel on the east coast.

It would run six miles north of Kumsong and Pyonggang, each about 30 miles north of the Parellel, on the central front, continue to a point two and a half miles north of Kumchon on the western front, 11 miles north of the Parallel, then dip below the Parallel to a point 10 miles southeast of Haeju on the west coast, two miles above the Parallel.

This is somewhat north and east of the present battlelines on which the U.N. is basing its demands for a buffer zone. The U.N. has never revealed exactly where it wants the line placed.

Liquor Sales Drop In West Virginia After New Taxes

CHARLESTON W Va Aug 11 (AP)—Liquor sales in the state s stores showed a $615 000 drop last month following the start of new taxes which raised prices from 10 to 65 cents depending on the brand

The price increases were in accord with an act of the 1951 legislature to provide part of the funds for the veterans bonus It was expected that the tax on whisky would bring an additional $1 600 000 yearly

However it was pointed out by the liquor commission s stock control director Guy E Williams if the July trend continues the commission would still pay out $1 600 000 in whisky profits for the bonus but the state s net would be considerably less

The Liquor Control Commission reported yesterday that net sales during July at 126 state stores and 16 agencies totaled $2 808 683 down from $3 484 161 in June and $3 027 544 during July 1950

Williams reported that the state realized a net profit of $7 978 504 on sales of $40 728 717 in the fiscal year ended June 30 This is about 19 per cent profit on approximately $664 000 a month

If the July rate continued Williams said 1951 52 sales would be below last year s and profits would not be increased by $1 600 000

Since Summer is normally a slack period for liquor sales Williams said sales should pick up in the Fall

Union Contracts Bill Advances In Senate

WASHINGTON Aug 11 (AP)—A bill to legalize thousands of questioned union labor contracts was approved unanimously yesterday by the Senate labor committee

A similar bill has been introduced in the House The Senate bill was sponsored by Senator Taft (R) of Ohio and Humphrey (D) of Minnesota

It grew out of a Supreme Court ruling that top officials of the A F L and C I O had to sign non Communist oaths under provisions of the Taft Hartley labor act if affiliated unions were to be allowed legal use of National Labor Relations Board facilities

Thousands of labor contracts worked out in conjunction with the N L R B were signed during a period when top labor union chiefs had not yet signed such oaths They have now done so

The Taft Humphrey bill would validate these contracts

The bill also would permit employers and unions to agree on a union shop without a referendum of workers involved unless 30 per cent of the workers signed a petition demanding a referendum

New Explosions Planned For Test Of Atmosphere

LAS VEGAS Nev Aug 11 (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission will start a new series of small explosions Wednesday at the Indian Springs testing ground

The purpose of the explosions the commission said yesterday is to obtain detailed data for anticipating atmospheric conditions during test operations and to study the effect of temperature inversion and upper winds on blast waves'

The commission announcement did not say the blast would be of atomic origin It referred only to small amounts of high explosives

Last February a great cloud of yellow smoke formed over the testing ground after the blasts The cloud was caused by temperature inversion an atmospheric condition that kept the cloud from rising and drifting away The purpose of the new tests apparently will be to find a way to avoid setting off major blasts on days when temperature inversion can be expected

The commission will record the blasts at seven locations as far as 100 miles in Utah and Nevada using highly sensitive instruments in St George Utah and Las Vegas Tonopah Beatty Indian Springs Boulder City and Caliente Nev

Residents of these towns probably won t hear or see the explosions but travelers on highways near the site may see smoke clouds and hear the blasts the commission said

The tests will last several months

We Don't Want It New England Folk Say Of Jet Base

WASHINGTON Aug 11 (AP)—A citizens committee of Portsmouth N H is putting reverse English on the usual plea to Congress—it wants no part of a $16 538 000 jet bomber base

A multibillion-dollar military construction bill before the House provides for the base to be located in the Portsmouth Newington area But the citizens committee placed a full page advertisement in yesterday morning s Washington Post appealing to Congress to put the base somewhere else

The reasons?

The site would cover 5 000 acres, all of it developed land in the most populous section of our state ' it would take in more than the town of Newington and mean the destruction of some 70 homes and farms and a community 328 years old and within the traffic pattern of the jet bombers (would be) the entire city of Portsmouth about 15 other towns and the campuses of the University of New Hampshire and the Phillips Exeter Academy

Trespassing Youth Killed

Beaver Creek Rail Worker Surrenders

Pennsylvania police said Russis also was struck by Dawson last March, but there was no record of this incident.

Russis said he is 55 but police said he appears much older. He never was in any known trouble. He explained possession of the gun as security for a $10 loan made to a Greek friend several years ago. The friend, employed as a restaurant cook here, was killed in a traffic accident a few years ago and never redeemed the weapon, Russis said.

Russis was reported to have been employed years ago as a track sweeper and greaser for the former Steubenville, East Liverpool & Beaver Valley Traction Co.

He has been working the past few years for the Youngstown & Southern as trackwalker on its Montour line, which hauls coal from the creek dock to the washer at Negley and then to Youngstown steelmills.

Russis remained in City Jail last night and was taken into custody this morning by Beaver County detectives and state policemen. Private Joseph Rapchak and Private Andrew Mazak, who conducted the investigation last night. Russis waived extradition.

Russis signed the extradition waiver after the release to Beaver authorities was authorized in Municipal Court by Judge George Brokaw and he was taken to Beaver.

He will be taken before Justice of the Peace Charles L. Edgar in Beaver and charged with murder in a complaint to be filed by the Pennsylvania police, according to the office of District Attorney William Caughlin at Beaver.

Regardless of his plea, he will be held without bond for the September Grand Jury, it was said. Pennsylvania does not permit release on bond for a major felony of this nature.

The railroad company's headquarters at Pittsburgh phoned police this morning for information, and indicated it would provide him with counsel.

Dawson's father, Landis Albert "Barney" Dawson, former Crucible employee, was killed July 21 when struck by a passenger train near the Federal Building in Pittsburgh, while visiting a sister at Monessen.

Young Dawson served in the Army and went to work for Crucible after holding other jobs locally.

His mother, Mrs. Thelma House Horm, resides in Midland with her second husband, R. E. Horm. The youth lived with his grandmother, Mrs. Virginia House, 525 Bridge St. He was born in East Liverpool.

He has a brother, Harry R. Dawson, serving in the Air Force at Killeen, Tex. The Red Cross was asked yesterday to contact his base for an emergency furlough to attend the funeral, the second time he has been called home by death since the father was killed

The body was taken to the Martin Funeral Home where services will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2 by Rev. George Lynch of the Oakland Free Methodist Church. Burial will be in Spring Grove Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Monday.

WAR SWORD'S SHADOW. The Air Force's F-86D Saber jet fighter, latest model of the champion plane of Korean skies, casts its sleek shadow on the dry lake bed at the Edwards (Calif.) Gross' state is one of four in which no military construction in the bill is scheduled. The others are Connecticut, West Virginia and North Dakota.

After bitter wrangling, the Gross amendment was defeated. 56 to 16.

Gross then moved to send the bill back to the House armed services committee with instruction from the House that it eliminate the Grandview item. He insisted on a roll-call vote.

But the House was under "a gentleman's agreement" not to have roll-call votes on Friday or Monday. This is frequently done to permit members to take extended week ends.

Thus the House had to put over until Tuesday the roll call on Gross' amendment. In view of yesterday's vote, the amendment appears certain of final rejection.

Afterward, quick passage is expected for the bill, which authorizes the largest single military construction program ever presented to Congress in peace or war.

'Wipe Out The Swine,' Peron's Backers Told

BUENOS AIRES, Aug. 11 (AP) — Declaring "the time has arrived to wipe out the swine made daring by our tolerance", followers of President Juan D. Peron redoubled their fight against the opposition today.

They were following a party order put out last night charging persons opposed to Peron are linked with imperialistic capitalism and planned to sabotage a mass meeting Aug. 22 where the president will be urged to run again.

Argentine Socialists, in an unusually bold statement, denounced the campaign as "violence and unjustified persecution" against its members.

The party said 15 of its members were arrested yesterday and these men joined 13 others arrested earlier for "disrespect" shown to the president.

Watermelon Munched As Killer Waits Police

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex., Aug. 11 (AP) — A gunman fired wildly into scores of shoppers in a crowded grocery store here yesterday.

He then walked across the street, ordered a slice of watermelon and calmly ate it until police arrived.

One man was killed and another was wounded in the shooting. Both victims apparently were strangers to the gunman.

Killed was Laurencio M. Guerrero, 38. Jessie Lopez, 19, was wounded.

The gunman surrendered peacefully and was placed in city jail to await filing of charges today.

Hearing Continued In Check Passing Case

A Municipal Court hearing this morning for a LaCroft man charged with passing a worthless check was continued to Monday after he entered a plea of not guilty.

Bond for Robert E. Watson was set at $500 by Judge George L. Brokaw.

He was arrested Thursday on a warrant issued for Paul T. Todd, yard foreman at the Milliron Co., who charged Watson gave him a worthless $100 check June 26 in payment for materials.

Wife Of Famed Oil 'Wildcatter' Taken By Death

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 11 (AP)—Mrs. Sarah N. Benedum, 79, wife of famed oil wildcatter Michael L. Benedum, died today in her home.

Although she had been in failing health, Mrs. Benedum was out for an automobile ride only yesterday. She lived in Pittsburgh since 1909.

Her husband, a wealthy oilman and philanthropist, is widely believed to have sunk more speculative oil wells than any other individual.

Mrs. Benedum was a native of Blacksville, W. Va., where she was married in 1896. The couple lived in Cameron nd Wheeling, W. Va., before coming to Pittsburgh.

Postmaster Ralph C. Benedum and Rev. O. L. Benedum, district superintendent of the Church of the Nazarene are second cousins of M. L. Benedum. They are sons of Frank Benedum, who was a first cousin of the wealthy Pittsburgh oil man.

Unionists Get Medals For Joining In Strikes

TOLEDO, Aug. 11 (AP)—Some 800 C.I.O. United Auto Workers here are receiving bronze medals for participating in a series of strikes.

Richard T. Gosser, U.A.W. international vice-president, said last night the medals will go to members of Toledo's huge U.A.W. Local 12.

The series of strikes was in connection with the union's campaign to establish an area-wide industrial pension system last year.

The strikes involved about 800 workers in nine Toledo plants. The pension plan now covers about 2,000 workers in 19 plants.

One-Way Traffic Starts On Road Job

One-way traffic for a stretch of about a half-mile went into effect today near the East Liverpool city limits for the "super-highway" project to Wellsville.

George Gonzales, resident engineer, sid one-way traffic will be maintained on a 24-hour basis for about two weeks.

Gonzales said it was necessary because of the dangerous traffic conditions in the section. The old streetcar right-of-way is being cut away and the traffic will then be shifted to this section. The present road will then be cut down to the level of the new road.

Gonzales warned all drivers to use extreme care over the road.

Water Department Repairs Broken Main

Water Department linesmen completed repairs Friday afternoon on the last of three breaks in a 12-inch main on Pennsylvania Ave. that occured in rapid sequence Wednesday and Thursday.

All within a 300-foot stretch, the breaks were blamed on an earth "slip" that shifted the big main.

A leaky joint in the line, which workmen had been unable to locate in previous tries, was spotted during the other repairs and probably will be repaird Monday, the department said.

A Tribute To The Farmer!

From the soil comes the sustenance of the world. From the hard-working man who tills the soil comes the fruits of Nature in bountiful array. God loves the Farmer, someone has said, because he is in such close communion with the good earth. He plows it. He plants it. He worries over it. And lo, then his smiling fields are lush and abundant with tassels, tomatoes and all the things we eat. Fat cows and porkers give us milk and meat. And Mrs. Farmer has chickens and turkeys for the market. Without the Farmer there would be no life or living. Let's salute his sun-up to sunset existence . . . and be grateful for his bounty!

Two-Party System In Operation

Harry Truman, President of the United States and head of the Democratic party, is a practical politician, regardless of whatever else he is or is not.

His press conference comment that he wants Ohio's Senator Taft to be the Republican party's presidential nominee next year is plainly an attempt to get the two-party system in operation for the 1952 election.

His further comment that he does not believe General Eisenhower is a candidate for the Democratic nomination is in the same direction—to make the two-party system do what it is designed to do.

That is to provide voters with reasonably clear alternatives to choose between in national elections.

Mr. Truman believes, as head of the Democratic party, that it is his job to keep the party in power. It is now quite obvious that he believes he is the man to do it, and that Senator Taft as Republican nominee would be the man most likely to provide a foil for the kind of campaign Mr. Truman would conduct.

It is more obvious that Mr. Truman realizes, as a practical politician, that the potential candidacy of General Eisenhower somehow must be disposed of for the sake of Democratic unity under Mr. Truman's command. Hence Mr. Truman's broad hint that the Eisenhower potentiality is of no further interest to the Democratic party.

Of course, it will continue to interest many persons who think of themselves as Democrats, just as it interested them in 1948. But they have had fair warning from the man who controls the party organization, or against him and the organization. Mr. Truman is tightening up the party machinery in advance for the 1952 campaign. He is not going to take the chance, as he did in 1948, of an upset in the Democratic national convention

What the Republican party may do relative to General Eisenhower, and what the general may do relative to the G. O. P., is another matter. It seems reasonable to assume that Mr. Truman hopes there may be a collision between Senator Taft's friends and General Eisenhower's friends which would do neither faction any good, and which might leave the Republican party's rank-and-file voters angry and confused. That, too, would be practical politics from Mr. Truman's point of view.

So far as Senator Taft is concerned, his candidacy always has relied on the assumption that a clean-cut issue between his kind of conservatism and the cynical school of giveaway politics which controls the Truman administration would result in victory for conservatism. The senator's success in his own re-election campaign in Ohio in 1950 seemed to prove the point.

If the two-party system were to make the issue in next year's presidential election as decisive as it was made in Ohio last year, Mr. Truman's efforts to create a clean-cut issue would have the ironic result of causing his own defeat.

Intentional Neglect

The president of the World Assembly of Youth—whatever that may be—is quoted as saying at a convention of the movement in Ithaca that "young people living in democratic countries are not receiving from governments and other institutions the support and help which they are entitled to expect".

This is going to be a bitter pill to swallow in this particular democratic country. Whatever neglect of youth can be charged against Americans is intentional neglect; there are no youth battalions, no youth camps, and no marching societies, if that is what the Ithaca speaker means.

But there is a social concept of youth's importance which sometimes threatens to gear this country wholly to juvenile wants and needs. There is a public school system whose gigantic financial needs are met cheerfully by a tax-harassed population. And there is a firm conviction that the highest function of youth is not to march off to wars, but to learn how to live at peace in a world of good will, if that can be brought about by the open-handed generosity of their elders.

Inside On Outside Help

One of the things not likely to be talked about much in the general line of discussion started by the West Point incident is a kind of outside help that many appointees to West Point and Annapolis used in order to gain entrance to these institutions. The same kind of help has been used, also, by thousands of lawyers taking bar examinations, plus thousands of Civil Service workers preparing for examinations, plus thousands of students taking college entrance examinations.

A young man applying for admittance to West Point must take a stiff examination to prove he is qualified. Without outside help in the form of advance information on what he is likely to be asked, his chances would be greatly diminished, as would the chances of many other Americans who have had to take competitive examinations.

Behind The News

By George Sokolsky

Quill's Union Plan Could Wreck Police Departments

New York City is faced by the threat of a unionized police force led by Mike Quill.

If Quill succeeds in New York, he will set out to establish a national union of the police forces of all cities in the United States.

Organized by such a person—arrogant, blatant, without roots in American life and tradition—it would mean the destruction of police as servants of the people.

They would become stooges of Quill's union. Expulsion from the union would mean no job. Therefore, the union could and would dominate the police force.

Quill's public history is no good. He came here an adult after a revolutionary career in Ireland. He went to work in the transit system and in 1934 organized, with the assistance of a group of public Communists, a union of Transit workers.

There is evidence before the House committee on un-American activities that Quill himself was once a member of the Communist party. Quill insists that he is an anti-Communist.

IT MUST BE admitted that during his leadership the wages, conditions of work and general benefits of transit workers improved greatly.

But it was accomplished by the most brutal flouting of the public weal, by strikes and threats of strikes, by slowdowns and peril to the health and finances of the city. It was revolutionary trade unionism of the European type.

The Police Department of New York is no longer "the finest". During the LaGuardia regime, the morale of the department broke down because LazGuardia was playing politics with labor and minority groups whom he favored at the espense of law enforcement.

In the O'Dwyer administration of the city, graft in connection with gambling developed to such unusual proportions that the Police Department had to be investigated and numbers of the force retired.

Thomas F. Murphy, prosecuting attorney in the Hiss case, was appointed police commissioner to clean up the department. He is now, however, on the federal bench. His successor, George P. Monaghan, is an able and alert lawyer.

The seriousness of the situation is that New York is a city of about eight million people which could in wartime, fall into the hands of subversive elements who are concentrated there.

This city is the heart of all Communist activity in the United States. Although Quill has denounced his former colleagues, the fact that he chooses this precise moment of national peril to head the police, knowing his own record, as he must, is startling.

A police organization should be headed by a person concerning whom there is not a shadow of a doubt. Quill long was associated with Harry Sacher, John Santo and Austin Hogan in his transport workers union. Sacher is an outstanding Communist lawyer, one of the most obstreperous in the court over which Judge Medina presided and is now in contempt.

Santo has been ordered deported as an undesirable alien and left the country voluntarily.

Quill may have broken with his Communist associates altogether. He may be as white now as new-driven snow. It is, however, difficult to forget that he denied Communist complicity as vociferously as he does today when he was clearly associated with the Communists

It is not possible to know what is in one's heart and mind. Quill could prove his anti-communism by not aiding them to create further disturbances in any part of the United States. Then there would be no doubt as to his attitude.

AS IT IS, he has become a threat to the largest city in our country. He is threatening it with dual control of its police force

He is threatening it with the danger of disorder in the event of a strike, let us say, on its long and important water front where Communists, gangsters and dope peddlers are active in various subversive and even revolutionary efforts.

This is no time to condone or tolerate such perils for any reason whatsoever Nor is it a problem limited to New York.

If Quill is recognized as heading a police union, hundreds of Quills will arise over the country and they will combine into a powerful, dues-collecting, disciplined national organization.

Running a police union could be the country's best racket, particularly if the union wins the usual clause of no-dismissal without a trial before union officials.

The no-dismissal clause is making for decreased efficiency in many industries. It can wreck a Police Department altogether.

Inside On Labor

By Victor Riesel

It's been a phony war against the crime combines, the sin syndicates and their footloose thugs, who apparently know more about debonair living in our gayest cities and escaping dog day heat than do Duncan Hines, the A A A. and whoever is the Mr. Cook of contemporary tours.

That's for sure, as I've just discovered in a 6,000-mile jaunt with someone who knew where to look.

Also for sure, I discovered, is the grim fact that while prominent citizens still seek out the mob leaders' lavish social company and talk of them as "good guys who'll do me a favor if I ever need one", other citizens are living under heavy guard, literally ready to shoot it out with the torpedoes, since the regular police forces can't seem to beat the national combines.

As I said, the big fellows live in lush style and apparently have recovered from the shock of last Spring's reluctant television stings. There wasn't a wrinkle in Frankie Costello's tanned face the other day outside a giant hotel.

THERE WASN'T a speck of dust on his big Beverly Club gambling house as I stood on a sun-scorched Mississippi levee just a hundred yards or so behind the joint which, in handsomely-painted billboards on Route 90 outside New Orleans, announced that it had only "Closed For The Summer". They'll be back when the heat's off. And farther south, in the lush lobbies of Miami Beach's gold coast hotels, there was nothing but the calmest relaxation on the heavy-jowled faces of the gambling syndicate owners for whom the crowds opened in great deference.

What they didn't know, and what might have disturbed those faces, whose sole problem was carrying six-bit Havana cigars, was the fact that at the moment, or just a few days earlier, Treasury Department agents, and here and there a special F.B.I. man, were going over the books of the platinum-plated hotels, very, very carefully.

The federals had heard that, once again, the mobs were seeking to "lend" money to legitimate hotel operators. Once they did that they could use the hotel money to buy into defense plants.

The special federal men, right up the line into Detroit were convinced that the syndicates already had used such respectable fronts to buy into the new and legitimate war factories.

And so are the union leaders convinced, especially those now living under renewed suspicion, that more violence is around the corner as new organizing drives come off in the Fall

To a great many people all this cops and robbers stuff is just fascinating reading. Not to a union such as the C.I.O. Auto Workers led by Walter Reuther and his colleagues.

They're not saying much, but they're expecting some pressure from the boys within the next three months—boys who don't want their gambling rackets trampled on by this hard-hitting union.

Out in Detroit is where you'll see a union headquarters forced to guard itself in a way no labor building ever has been.

The auto union's handsome new home, Solidarity House, is enclosed by fenses, locked each night. Behind these roam specially-trained watchdog patrols, released after dark. Guards screen everyone going into the building and, after a while, tension grips many of the busy union officials.

Special auto union investigators still are probing into the shooting of the Reuther brothers and the death threat to Secretary-Treasurer Emile Mazey.

These specialists check all rumors and all tips. Then everything goes into a master file for cross-indexing. At regular intervals all this information is correlated and analyzed. Somewhere in that data is the key to a national mob

—:—

REUTHER TAKES most of this in his stride as he plans activities for his million-man union which will make national headlines in the next two years.

There was, for example, the early morning in Washington when Reuther's bodyguard, sleeping in an adjoining room, was awakened by a pounding on the door

He tore it open to see Reuther, fully clothed, with packed bags. 'What's up?' the guard asked. "We have 35 minutes to catch a plane," Walter reported. "We'll never make it," the guard surmised. "I'm not dressed. What'll we do?"

And Reuther characteristically retorted:

"I don't know what you're going to do, but I'm catching that plane."

and he did. He had work to do. He has even more now, for in a few months he enters the hospital for a gallstone operation.

But that sort of indifference to physical hurt doesn't dispel the shadows of the mobs who are putting their millions secretly, through complex stock deals, into legitimate business And they want no interference.

Korean Problem Far From Solved

By David Lawrence

Whoever in Washington is guiding the hand of General Ridgway in the Korean armistice negotiations deserves credit for the fluctuating maneuvers which twice now have resulted in a U. N. initiative in actually interrupting the talks.

When the negotiations started, the whole world was given the impression by Red propaganda that the U. N. had sought the chance to quit fighting

It was widely assumed that the U. N. was so eager to bring the hostilities to an end that almost any status quo proposal from the Chinese would be accepted.

But on two occasions now the U. N. has shown itself willing to risk the breakdown of the parleys on a principle.

First the demand was made that armed troops must be withdrawn from the town where the peace conversations were taking place. After a brief delay, the Communists accepted the terms demanded.

—:—

THEN THE U. N. charged that the truce terms were being violated again by armed troops and once more the Communists have, in effect, backed down.

All this leads up to the most important item under consideration—where the armistice line shall be drawn.

The U. N. wants it to be the present defense line and the Communists want the U. N. forces to retreat to the 38th Parallel.

Although the existing defense line is not very far within North Korea and amounts to about the same thing as a stand at the 38th Parallel, nevertheless, the use in propaganda that will be made of such a retreat is enough to cause the U. N. negotiators to decline to agree to the parallel.

Actually the U. N. team is employing two very persuasive arguments One is that to insist on the 38th Parallel is to reintroduce "political questions" which previously have been barred from this particular negotiation.

The other is that the line at the 38th Parallel is itself not defensible for either set of belligerents. A further point is made logically that U. N. air and sea power actually control the coast lines as well as the air far north of the 38th Parallel and hence to agree to the present defense line is in effect a concession in itself to the Reds.

The climax will come when the argument on the armistice line is finally resolved. The Communists will fuss and fume and perhaps delay further the conclusion of the cease-fire agreement, but in the end they will agree.

Out of it, therefore, will come at least three "victories" for the U. N. from the propaganda standpoint.

The real victory for the Reds however, will come later—when the armistice has been concluded and the negotiations for a settlement of the Korean problem begin

There will be no leverage then for either side. The Communists may threaten a resumption of fighting and the U. N. may imply the same. Realistically speaking, however, neither side will start fighting again when once the cease-fire has taken effect. A stalemate in the negotiations will ensue.

THE COMMUNISTS are saying they want a time limit of at least a year beyond which the negotiations shall not be carried. There is little reason for the U. N. to object to this, because at the end of a year, if a settlement has not yet been reached, the armistice agreement can be extended for another year by mutual consent

Meanwhile, it looks as if Korea will remain divided for a long time to come, especially since the U. N. has declared formally that it will not use military force to secure the pacification or unifying of all Korea

If there is any leverage coming which can possibly influence the Communists to withdraw from Korea, it hasn't appeared yet, though an offer many be expected from the Reds to take all Communist troops out whenever the U. N. gets out.

Once that happens, Korea will be subject to recurrent attacks or infiltration by a North Korean puppet faction which will be aided by the Russian as well as Chinese Communists.

The Korean problem is far away from a solution and the status that existed in 1950 may go on indefinitely

They'll Never Know

By Truman Twill

Whiling away some anxiety-filled moments before trudging off to consult with my dentist about an upstairs tooth misery, I have been mulling over a suggestion to make to that drill-master, to-wit:

"Look, old friend . . . and you are an old friend . . . why don't we do some long-range planning, you and I? Instead of cutting off the puppy's tail an inch at a time, the way we have been doing for the last 15 years, let us bite down on the realities, instead of on your fingers and those little swatches of carbon paper you keep putting in there to prove how inefficient these old corn-choppers have become.

"In the first place, nature did a bad designing job. And in the second place, the ravages of time, adversity and cherry stones left in pies have undone what little was good in the original layout. So we have a choice, you and I, between stringing along with something which never was any good in the first place and something better which I will describe to you if you will take your fist out of my craw.

"The chewingest animal is the sheep, which nips off grass all its life, yet never goes to the dentist. Aforesaid sheep also can masticate oats, corn, hay, graw on blocks of salt and need no brushes to keep all dental equipment in a neat condition. This is possible because of an excellent bit of designing.

"A sheep bites with its lower teeth against a ridge of cartilage in the upper half of its mouth. This ridge never wears out. It keeps growing back in. Nothing gets caught in it, because it is solid. It does not break, get discolored or have toothaches. And it needs no drilling. So now, old friend, we come to the point of this dissertation

"Let us dispense with further makeshifts and ceramic imitations of teeth and collaborate on a hoof-nanny with a wear-resistant surface which will be installed in the upper half of my mouth

"To prove my sincerity, I shall make available for your study a sheep as a working model, though I shall want the sheep to be returned in good condition when you are through with it. And if the arrangement works, I shall stand ready to appear at professional meetings, to pose for pictures, give testimonials and forego all patent rights

"It will be a brand new idea in dentures—a renewable chewing machine designed for the sole purpose of chewing, instead of trying to combine functionalism with appearance. And when the time comes we shall do something equally progressive about the downstairs teeth."

It now is time to keep the rendezvous. We shall not have a word to say. Our dentist and his assistant will pack our yap full of assorted materials and carry on a provocative monolog about the pennant race in the American League. They will not even give us the dog's privilege of getting in one bite before they shoot us with a needle and start drilling—the sadists. Baaaa

West Pointers Await Nature Of Dismissals

Support Grows That Cribbers Be Granted Honorable Release

WEST POINT N Y Aug 11 (AP)—Additional supporters including a lawyer and some West Point officials have been won to appeals that honorable discharges be granted a number of the 90 cadets accused of cheating at examinations

Such dismissal would permit the cadets to leave the Military Academy without the official stigma implied or contained in other forms of discharges

The talk of the method of dismissal in many quarters is fast taking the place on debate on whether the cadets should be expelled at all There are indications that many of the cadets themselves are more anxious to get the honorable discharges than to fight the suspension order

Exactly what form the dismissals will take and just how many cadets will be affected may be known in the next few days Two screening boards now in session hope to complete examination of individual cases sometime over the week end

As the cheating scandal approached its climax it became apparent in Washington that Congress definitely has decided against an investigation at the academy

Senator Russell (D of Georgia chairman of the Senate armed services committee said today that he saw no need for a probe by his group The House armed services committee had taken a similar stand earlier this week

The cadets have been offered a choice between resigning from the academy or receiving administrative discharges An Army spokesman says that both choices would imply neither honorable nor dishonorable conditions

Meanwhile Coach Earl Blaik released his work sheet for this coming season's football team showing for the first time just how hard the dismissals hit the Army powerhouse eleven

The document showed only two returning members from the 1950 varsity squad of 45 These are ends John Weaver of Kingston N Y and John R Krobock of Hazelton Pa.

Hollow Rock's Final Services To Be Sunday

Capacity Crowds Due As Full Day's Events End 114th Meeting

The largest crowd of the series is expected to attend the closing services of the 114th annual camp meeting at historic Hollow Rock in Jefferson County Sunday.

A full day's schedule has been arranged for the final day.

There will be a People's meeting at 9 a. m. and a preaching service at 10:30, at which Dr. C. W. Butler of Detroit will be speaker.

A missionary rally will be conducted at 1 30 p. m. and another preaching service at 2 30, at which the veteran camp meeting worker, Dr John L Brasher of Attalla, Ala., will speak.

In the evening, there will be a young people's service at 6, with Miss Janice Bradford in charge. A ring meeting will be held outdoors at the same hour. Dr. Howard L. Sweeten of Ashley, Ill., will be the speaker at the concluding service at 7 45 p. m.

Rev. "Bill" Cox, son of Henry Cox, president of the Camp Meeting Association, who is home on a furlough from his mission station in Urindi, Africa, was speaker at a missionary rally Friday afternoon.

He described his work to build two houses, a church, a school, a dispensary and other structures and the beginning of a Christian community at Moroche in the Cosomo Valley of the Belgian Congo.

At the night service. Dr. Eugene Erney of the Oriental Missionary Society appealed for prayers for missions and for young people to volunteer as missionaries. At least 200 young people responded to his appeal to offer themselves for full-time Christian service.

Mrs. Cox and Mrs. Margaret Brabon of Colombia, South America, were speakers yesterday morning.

Rev. Ignacio Guevara, a native of Colombia, spoke at a ring meeting, telling of his experiences. His talk was translated by his wife. Pictures of the mission station in Africa were shown by Rev. Cox following the night service.

The camp is asking for $15,000 as a missionary offering this year and is making "good progress" toward reaching that goal before the end of the services tomorrow, sponsors said.

Rev. French To Speak At Emmanuel Services

Rev. Arthur E. French Jr., pastor of the First Presbyterian Church at Washington, Pa., and interim pastor of the First Presbyterian Church here from 1942 to 1945, will preach Sunday at 11 a. m. in the Emmanuel Presbyterian Church. Rev. T. Victor Scott, pastor, is on vacation

The music will consist of a baritone solo, "Abide With Me" (Liddle), by Ernest Lowe, and a duet, "Jesus, Joy of Living Hearts" (Gotze), by Mrs. Ruth Keddie Wakefield, soprano, and Lowe.

Calvary Services To Feature Soloists

Solos by Mrs. Henry Kinsey and Miss Janice Mead will feature the music for the 10:45 a. m. service Sunday in the Calvary Methodist Church.

Mrs. Kinsey will sing "Open the Gates" (Knapp), and Miss Mead will give Joyce Kilmer's "Trees". Rev. W. A Hewitt will speak on "Who are You?" The service will be broadcast by WLIO.

Clifford Smith will lead the Christian Endeavor at 6 30 p. m.

Prayer meeting will be conducted Wednesday at 7 30 p. m. with Louis Provost leader. Rev. Hewitt will speak.

Newell Congregation Will Vote On Minister

The congregation of the Newell First Presbyterian Church will meet Friday at 8 p. m. to vote on a candidate for the pulpit, which has been empty for 13 months.

Rev. C T Weimer of Chester, moderator, has been conducting services.

Meanwhile, W R Bushong, elder and Sunday School superintendent, said no school or church services will be held until Sept. 2 while the interior is being cleaned.

Former Glenmoor Pastor Returns Sunday

Rev. A. E. Martin, professor of Bible at Tarkio (Mo.) College and a former pastor of the Glenmoor United Presbyterian Church will preach at the church Sunday at 11 a. m.

On Christ, the Solid Rock, I Stand

A cabinet maker takes up writing

"On Christ, the solid rock, I stand; all other ground is sinking sand" That line ran over and over in the mind of a 34-year-old London cabinet maker as he walked toward his woodworking shop.

Edward Mote was happy. He had learned his trade; had worked at it for wages and now he ran a woodworking business of his own. Always busy, Mote spent his spare hours writing articles for London periodicals. And, now and then, when a key line would hit him, he tried his hand at writing verse. But most of all Edward Mote was happy because his once confused mind was settled on his belief in God. He had been brought up in a home where the Bible was not permitted and his playground had been the streets of London. But after he became a man he attended Trottenham Court Road Chapel where sermons of the renowned John Hyatt set his mind at ease.

Edward Mote's cabinet shop ran itself that day in 1834. He had a theme for a poem and he wanted to get it on paper. Closeted in his little office he wrote the caption "Gracious Experience of a Christian" and, as he put it, "In the day I had four verses complete and wrote them off" The Sunday following Mote went to the home of a minister friend whose wife was near death. Groping for words, the cabinet maker thought of his verses. He sang them for the dying woman and, at the conclusion of each verse, added the line "On Christ, the solid rock, I stand, all other ground is sinking sand." It was only then that Mote realized he had written a hymn. He had a thousand copies printed for friends; a hymnal picked it up and "The Solid Rock" has been sung ever since.

Mote gave up his cabinet business, entered the Baptist ministry and at 55 built a church at his own expense. When his congregation offered to deed the property to him he said, "I only want the pulpit." At 77, in 1874, he looked up at friends at his bedside and said, "The truths I have preached will do to die upon." And so passed a man who had been reared in a Godless home, learned an honorable trade and gave it up for the ministry but whose memory will live for generations because he took time off from his work one day to write . . .

My hope is built on nothing less
Than Jesus' blood and righteousness;
I dare not trust the sweetest frame,
But wholly lean on Jesus' name.

When darkness seems to hide His face
I rest on His unchanging grace;
In every high and stormy gale,
My anchor holds within the vale.

His oath, His covenant, His blood,
Support me in the whelming flood;
When all around my soul gives way,
He then is all my hope and stay.

When He shall come with trumpet sound,
Oh, may I then in Him be found;
Dressed in His righteousness alone,
Faultless to stand before the throne.

On Christ, the solid rock, I stand;
All other ground is sinking sand.

Bishop To Begin Bid For President With 21-Day Fast

NEW YORK, Aug. 11 (AP)—Bishop Homer A Tomlinson, general overseer of the Church of God, says he will run for president of the United States in 1952 on a "platform of righteousness".

"The time has come," said the 52-year-old bishop, "for the people of God to realize their power and take over the political leadership of those who make their plans in beer halls and rooms full of cigarette smoke"

Bishop Tomlinson said he will begin his campaign with a 21-day fast starting at midnight this Sunday and lasting until Labor Day, after which he will make a 42-state tour, appearing chiefly before groups of ministers.

"I intend to call upon men of God to fill every political office in 1952 —from constable to president," the bishop declared.

He said he had looked in vain for some other minister willing to take on the task of seeking the presidency.

"We have had as president soldiers whose main business is war, businessmen whose main business is profit and lawyers whose main business is controversy," he said. "It is time we had a man of God whose main business is righteousness."

Bishop Tomlinson, whose father founded the Church of God, an evangelistic sect, in 1903, said his decision was based on reading the Bible and a prediction in the book of Daniel that "the kingdom and dominion under the whole Heaven shall be given to the people of the saints of the most high God".

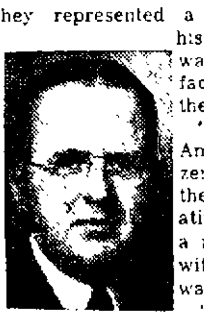
Confident Living

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Why Live The Hard Way?

I met a friend of mine who is a member of Congress on the train from Washington some time ago. He told me he was on his way home to speak to a large meeting of his constituents.

This particular group was quite hostile to him, he said, and probably would try to make things very difficult for him. But, although they represented a minority in his district, he was going to face them just the same.



Dr. Peale

"They are American citizens and I am their representative, they have a right to meet with me if they want to."

"Well," I commented, "you don't seem to be much worried about it."

"No," he replied, "if I get worried about it, then I'll be upset and won't handle the situation very well"

"How are you going to handle the situation?" I asked.

"I'll tell you. They'll be a noisy crowd and there will be over a thousand there. But I have my own way of meeting these situations. It's a little formula I learned a long while ago which has served me well ever since. This is it I will breathe deeply, talk quietly, speak sincerely, hold my temper, and trust God to see me through."

"I have learned one thing," the congressman continued, "and that is, in any situation, the secret is to relax and keep calm, practice having faith, do your best, and you usually can make things come out all right."

I DON'T KNOW what you think about it, but I believe that this man has discovered something. Most people would go into a meeting like that all tied up, full of belligerency, with a chip on the shoulder, ready to meet their opponents blow for blow. And, inevitably, the results wouldn't be too good.

This chap, however, had taught himself how to meet a tough situation and gain the respect even of those who differed from him. I imagine he could go home after such a meeting and sleep peacefully, without being plagued by bitterness or thoughts of how he could have handled the situation better.

His formula is really a great secret to learn. It's the way to personal power and real efficiency I met the congressman later and he said the meeting turned out O.K. Then he laughed and said, "Why do we always insist on making things so hard for ourselves?" That's a good question.

Why live the hard way? Why make things difficult for yourself? Life isn't easy, of course, but it's not so hard as some people like to make it.

MY CONGRESSMAN friend had mastered the principle of spiritual relaxation. It contrasts sharply with the attitudes of people who live the hard way. People who become proficient in this art manage to attach strength, force and power to their lives They can meet the most difficult situations with imperturbability and remarkable ease. People who haven't learned it are nervous and upset; as a result, they usually do and say the wrong things. Only when you function efficiently can you be expert at meeting difficult situations.

How to do it? What's the easy way to face a difficult situation? Adapt the congressman's formula to fit your needs. Here it is, simply stated and ready to use:

1—Start by taking a few deep breaths in and out slowly.

2—Speak quietly and sincerely.

3.—Hold your temper in check.

4—Trust in God and believe He will see you through.

Clip these four rules from the paper and save them until you next meet a situation that troubles you. Then read them and act on them. They won't fail you—they will work.

Why live the hard way? You can master an easier way to meet any situations that look difficult.

Catholics Uphold Easing Of Pain During Childbirth

VATICAN CITY, Aug. 11 (AP) — Catholics were assured today that the Bible does not prohibit lessening or elimination of pain in childbirth through modern medical science.

The question was raised by a reader of the Vatican's Sunday Osservatore Romano.

The reader asked whether the Lord's words to Eve after she and Adam had eaten the forbidden fruit "in sorrow shalt thou bring forth children" did not decree such a ban.

A Catholic doctor's reply, printed by the Vatican newspaper, said that the Biblical text could be interpreted as meaning not only the pain of childbirth, but "all the physical and moral sorrows that a mother must suffer because of her maternity".

The Biblical text, he added, does not at all forbid, for the woman, the lessening of natural pains of childbirth" just as preceding texts to the man, Adam, "in the sweat of thy brow——does not forbid him to lessen the burden of his labor through the use of animals and machines.

The reply concluded by quoting the words of Pope Pius XII last year to delegates who attended the fourth international congress of Catholic doctors here.

The pontiff praised doctors' efforts "to lessen the pains of childbirth without, however, endangering the health of mother and child and without risking to change the sentiments of maternal tenderness for the newly-born".

"Let Not Thy Left Hand Know What Thy Right Hand Doeth"

PREACHING to the multitudes Jesus said

Take heed that ye do not your alms before men to be seen of them otherwise ye have no reward of your Father which is in heaven

Therefore when thou doest thine alms do not sound a trumpet before thee as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, that they may have glory of men Verily I say unto you They have their reward

But when thou doest alms let not thy left hand know what they right hand doeth

That thine alms may be in secret and thy Father which seeth in secret himself shall reward thee openly "

'Morale Terrific,' Benny Says After Tour In Korea

HOLLYWOOD Aug 11 (AP)— The morale of our men in Korea is terrific reports Jack Benny returned this week from entertaining troops in the front lines

They know what they're fighting for added the fiddle hacking comedian Naturally they want peace But they want the right kind of peace and they're willing to continue fighting until they get it

The one thing that nearly every one of them asks is Do the people back home know there's a war on? I told them you're darned right they do

In his six weeks absence from Hollywood Benny figures he traveled between 25 000 and 30 000 miles with his entertainment troupe

They played before troops and wounded veterans in Hawaii Japan Okinawa and throughout Korea It was a thorough job Virtually every possible audience of U S soldiers in the Orient was reached with one exception That was a group at Pusan who could not be reached because of bad landing conditions for aircraft

It was the toughest tour I ever made said Benny who made five world wide journeys to entertain troops in World War Two But also it was the most satisfying I think we did the best job possible Not only did we reach every audience we could but we gave all the time possible to the other things that are important—posing for pictures with the G I s signing autographs talking and eating with the boys

CONVERSATION

A parrot can talk. But he can only say the things he has heard!

Human conversation is not so far removed from parrot-talk as we might like to believe We too base most of our conversation on the things we have heard But we digest thoughts that have been given us, consider them, make them our own, and then repeat them in our own words.

And yet, unlike the parrots, we influence others by the gift of speech. Our words can brighten or darken the lives of many people.

The God who has given us the gift of speech has also given us access to Truth. The spiritual knowledge we gain as we worship and study in our churches is the key to what the Bible calls "a holy conversation."

And that doesn't mean using pious phrases! It means using the gift of speech to help, rather than hurt, ourselves and others.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship It is a storehouse of spiritual values Without a strong Church neither democracy nor civilization can survive There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church They are (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake (3) For the sake of his community and nation (4) For the sake of the Church itself which needs his moral and material support Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily

Last Saturday in St. Aloysius Catholic Church, Mrs. Rachel Elizabeth Brown became the bride of Michael Halpate. Nuptial Mass was celebrated by Rev. Homer Oliver, assistant pastor, who performed the double-ring ceremony in the presence of friends and relatives. White gladioli filled the altar vases and ferns, palms and lighted tapers formed the setting for the 9:30 o'clock rites.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Greenwood, 920 Bradshaw Ave., and the bridegroom is the son of the late Michael and Barbara Halpate of Toronto.

Miss Lysbeth Hammil, church organist, presented music and sang as the bride placed flowers on the altar of the Blessed Virgin.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride was gowned in white organdy and lace. Designed in a princess style, it featured a Queen Ann collar and long pointed sleeves. A lace panel formed the front of the skirt and organdy ruffles from the back of the waist fell into a sweeping train. She wore a lace picture hat trimmed with forget-me-nots and carried a Colonial bouquet of white roses and mums, centered with an orchid.

Mrs. Patricia Morris, cousin of the bride, was matron of honor in blue lace and net, fashioned in a princess effect with a full skirt. Her picture hat was of lace and yellow mums formed her Colonial bouquet.

Attired in yellow organdy, Miss Barbara Sweda, niece of the bridegroom, served as bridesmaid. Rhinestones studded her yellow lace crown and she wore long mitts and carried yellow and white mums intermingled with red roses.

Little Marcia Jean Sweda, another niece, was flower girl.

David Brown was ring bearer.

Best man for his cousin was Robert Hobel of Wyandotte, Mich., and ushers were Michael Tye of Toronto and Richard Winters and Jack Shaw.

Mrs. Greenwood chose Navy blue with white accessories and her feather hat was trimmed in rhinestones. Pink roses formed her corsage. Mrs. A. J. Sharkey, grandmother of the bride, wore Navy print and white carnations.

A dinner for the immediate families followed at the Travelers Hotel. Seventy were present and mixed flowers formed decorations for the tables.

Two hundred and fifty friends and relatives attended the reception from 5 until 8 o'clock in the K. of C. Hall. Wedding bells, doves and lighted tapers formed the setting for the five-tiered cake. The buffet table was arranged with chrysanthemums, larkspur, gladioli and lighted tapers.

Aides were Mrs. Joseph D. Smurda, sister of the bridegroom, Mrs. John Sweda, Mrs. H. B. Weiser, Mrs. John Ulrich of Toronto, Mrs. William Elliot of Empire, and Mrs. Joseph Ondris of Charleroi, Pa.

For their trip to the Canadian Rockies, the bride was dressed in a beige suit with matching duster, teal and brown accessories and the orchid from her bouquet. They will reside at 1317 North River Ave., Toronto.

A graduate of East Liverpool High School, the bride was employed at the Homer Laughlin China Co. Her husband works for the Crucible Steel Co. He is a graduate of Toronto High School.

Homers Keep Indians, Yanks In Deadlock

Rosen, Mize Hit Big Blows In Victories

By The Associated Press

Pennants are won by clutch hitters like Cleveland's Al Rosen and New York's Johnny Mize Because these two long ball hitters came through under pressure the Indians and Yanks are still tied for the American League lead

Rosen smashed a two-run homer with the score tied to give Cleveland a 6 4 shade over the stubborn Chicago White Sox last night Mize hit a homer and drove in two runs for the Yanks 3 1 margin over Philadelphia

As a result the Indians and Yanks remain in an exact 67 39 tie with seven weeks to go Boston a 6-4 winner over Washington is still four and a half lengths back and Chicago has dropped eight games behind

'Out of the pennant race but very much in the running for most valuable player is Ned Garver of St Louis whose 14th victory was a neat 4 2 job on Detroit Just to make it sure Garver came up with four hits including a double

Rain washed out most of the first-division action in the National last night postponing the Boston at Brooklyn and Philadelphia at New York games St Louis nipped Cincinnati 4 3 in 10 innings on Pitcher Gerry Staley's single with the bases loaded and two out In the afternoon Mel Queen of Pittsburgh shut out Chicago 3 0 for his first victory since May 13

This man Rosen of the Indians doesn't waste many homers Fourteen of his 18 came in winning games Three were wasted in losses The other helped the Tribe to a tie

Chicago which has been rough on Cleveland all season piled up an early lead off Bob Lemon But Kenny Holcombe couldn't hold it He yielded two in the fifth and four in the seventh with Rosen's clout capping the rally Randy Gumpert came in to lock the door after the horse was stolen Lemon went the route for his 13th win

Mize backed up Ed Lopat's steady six hit pitching to hang a seventh loss on Sad Sam Zoldak Gil McDougald's triple and Bobby Brown's single produced the first run in the third After Mize homered in the sixth the A's came back with one The Yanks added their insurance run in the eighth on singles by Yogi Berra and Joe DiMaggio and Mize's run scoring liner to Al Clark

Charley Maxwell's two run pinch single helped Boston come from behind with a three run spurt in the sixth inning to top Washington Clyde Vollmer's 20th homer off Connie Marrero in the eighth nailed down the decision Ellis Kinder reeled off three hitless relief innings to save Mel Parnell's 12th win

Garver was the whole story at Detroit where the Brownies ruined the debut of Charley Gehringer as new Tiger general manager Cliff Mapes homered off Loser Virgil Trucks to break a 1 1 tie in the sixth Pat Mullin's fifth homer gave the Tigers their first run

St Louis pitchers had quite a night at bat Garver had his four hits with the Browns and Staley won his own game for the Cardinals With two out in the 10th St Louis loaded the bases on Ken Raffensberger with a walk to Nippy Jones Wally Westlake's double and an intentional pass to Hal Rice Staley broke it up for his 13th win

Queen settled down after yielding four hits in the first three innings to blank the Cubs while the Pirates made five hits off Cal McLish good for three runs McLish held the Pirates hitless until the seventh when Ralph Kiner doubled and Bill Howerton singled

WEST POINT N Y Aug 11 (P)—Army's 1951 football team will come from a squad composed of two of last year's varsity 19 from the 1950 freshman outfit 10 from the B squad and perhaps some members of the class that entered the Academy this Summer

The 31 man roster released by the Academy yesterday listed only two members of last year's 45-man A' squad They are Ed Weaver of Kingston, N Y and John Krobock of Hazleton Pa Both are ends

The team that was expected to make Army a gridiron power was torn asunder by the directive approving dismissal of 90 students for violating the Academy's honor code

Coach Earl (Red) Blaik whose quarterbacking son is one of the players lost to the squad doubts if Army can find enough players to make the squad as numerically strong as last Fall

We'll get what we can to add to the squad he said But I'm pretty sure we won't be able to round up a full complement But we'll do all we can with what we have

Rules On Grid Practice Hit

MIDDLETOWN O Aug 11 (P)—The Ohio High School Football Coaches Association recommended last night that all restrictions be taken off football practice and that the sport be placed on the same basis as all other state scholastic athletic competition

Football is the only sport legislated against by the Ohio High School Athletic Association The coaches urge that present rules restricting the start of Fall gridiron practice for teams having indulged in Spring workouts be abolished

Under present regulations teams holding a four week spring session ending the third week in April may not start Fall practice until Sept 1 Those not holding Spring practice may start fall workouts Aug 20 The directors of the coaches association recommended the athletic association erase all restrictions on football practice

Said Mac Pemberton of Columbus West High School There is no reason why football should be legislated against Basketball coaches are permitted to practice on a 12 month basis if they desire Football pays the freight for practically all the big time high schools athletic program in Ohio and we see no reason why we should be restricted on football practices

The football association directors urged that unless football curbs are lifted the state board regulate all the high school sports in Ohio placing definite practice dates on all of them

The association named a committee headed by Glenn (Tiger) Ellison of Middletown Seraph Pope of Lima Central Jim McDonald of Springfield Ralph Webster of Columbus East and Bill Kidd of New Philadelphia to submit a petition to the state board asking approval of the proposed lifting of restrictions

All-Star Tilt Tonight Opens Football Year

By FRITZ HOWELL

Associated Press Sports Writer

MIDDLETOWN O Aug 11 — Ohio puts its most brilliant football jewels on display tonight

The occasion is the sixth annual North-South game the scene is Middletown's new 12 000 seat Barnitz Stadium and the cast is made up of last Fall's most scintillating high school seniors

The southern rebels, coached by Hamilton's Chuck Thackara, will operate from the T formation The northerners under Barberton Coach Junie Ferrall will use the single wing power offense

Each squad is loaded with passers and passcatchers and the fray probably will be a pitchers' battle Both coaches predict a free-scoring game since most of the two week training grind was used to polish the offenses little time being allowed for defense

Glenn Ellison Middletown's grid coach who is conducting the all-star game and a week long clinic for coaches sponsored by the Ohio High School Coaches Association said he expects a sell-out crowd of 12 000 although some tickets still were available early today

More than 275 coaches—seven from Canada and the others representing 27 states—have heard some football wisdom from topflighters in the clinic sessions Among the teachers who told their secrets of success were Sid Gillman of Cincinnati Burt Ingwerson of Illinois Charlie Caldwell Princeton's coach of the year Paul (Bear) Bryant of Kentucky's Sugar Bowl champions, and Wayne (Woody) Hayes Ohio State's new grid tutor

After taking a book full of notes during the long lectures one of the younger coaches said

I don't see how any of us can lose a game this Fall after learning all this stuff '

The rival all star squads are all even after five years of scrapping each winning two games and winding up in a 6 6 tie The North holds an 84 to 54 edge in scoring most of the margin coming a year ago on Toledo Waite's rainswept gridiron when the upstaters won by 32 to 7 the biggest margin in history Next year's all star game is scheduled Aug 16 in Akron's Rubber Bowl

The rival coaches came up with three starting lineup changes today Rebel shifts send Jay Ansel of Zanesville to left end Ed Merchant of Middletown to left half and Bob Brorston of Springfield to fullback For the North Massillon's all Ohio fullback Bob Howe got the nod over Toledo Scott's Henry Garr

All players on the 25 man squads are expected to get into tonight's classic scheduled at 8 30 p m

West Virginia's North-South Tilt Due Next Monday

CHARLESTON, W Va, Aug 11 (P) — A tough battle from the opening kickoff of the annual North-South football game here next Friday was forecast by both coaches today

Drills entered their sixth session today, and Soutch Coach Bill Moore of Oak Hill said no conclusions could be drawn from the early scrimmages

Neither Moore nor North Coach Jimmy Scott of Parkersburg have announced starting lineups

The South has been spending much of its time building up strong passing offenses and defenses Moore said he anticipated a strong aerial attack by the Yankees

Scott announced he has not yet made up his mind whether his northern eleven will run their plays from a T' or a single wing formation while Moore said he definitely will use the T'.

DODGEN' AROUND

It's been a long time since we have seen a fuss raised over college athletics like the West Point scandal Almost anyone else can resort to bits of chicanery once in a while without even being noticed but if it happens to concern athletics you can bet there will be the devil to pay when it hits the front pages of the newspapers

Not that we condone cheating in an examination But if we were honest with ourselves, most of us would have to admit that at some time or other we have been guilty of looking over our shoulder, too The remedy for such violations will run from the ridiculous to the sublime, and already our lawmakers are suggesting that we do everything from abandoning athletics to doing away with West Point altogether Let's hope that attitude doesn't prevail We might find some of our congressmen cheating a little, and then the public might want to do away with Congress

From where we sit it looks like it all depends on whether you cheat in examinations, or take bribes in money as to the severity of the punishment So far the administration has allowed the 5 percenters to go scott free and the income tax dodging racketeers to make their own deals with the Collector of Internal Revenue But when it comes to cheating on an examination that's different

There's quite a bit of fuss around the Hays Motors used car lot just now too Since we are able to extend 18 month payments a number of our customers have been trading in their cars on later models Most of these used cars have a lot of good dependable transportation left in them If you have need of better transportation stop in and see us

Sincerely,

Bob Hays

The report was made today by Mrs. J. W. Golden Jr., Mrs. Dorothy Vocial, Mrs. Don Baxter and others from Mrs. Kaufman's class who took part in the appeal for help.

In addition to the local money, more than $2,200 was raised among employees of the Westinghouse plant in Vanport, where her husband works, and another $90 was contributed by neighbors in Vanport.

Mrs. Kaufman will leave next week for treatment at St. Joseph Hospital at Tacoma, Wash., which has an outstanding record with sclerosis. She will remain between two and three months, depending on the response to treatments.

Her husband, Zalman Kaufman, will go along, since all patients are "out patients", reporting at the hospital each day for attention, but living in private homes.

Mrs. Kaufman is the daughter of Roy Bangor, 626 Avondale St., and her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kaufman, 1062 Oak St.

They sent a note to local friends today:

"We wish to thank all who have contributed so generously in order that my wife and I can make the trip to Tacoma, Wash., where she will undergo treatment for multiple sclerosis. Our heartfelt appreciation goes to each and every one."

Biblical Scholars Still Argue Authenticity Of Old Scrolls

JERUSALEM (U.P.)—An inquisitive Palestinian goat that strayed away from the herd a little over four years ago not far from Jericho has set off a controversy.

Historians and biblical scholars are on one side and archaeologists on the other.

The dispute has been going on for some time, but it has flamed more bitterly after a debate at the Jerusalem University between the chief exponents of both views.

The dispute concerns the authenticity of 17 ancient scrolls, most of which are said to be the earliest Hebrew texts of several books of the Old Testament.

When the goatherder saw one of his charges going up a rocky hillside, he ran after the animal.

On the way up, he passed a circular opening in the rocks. The rock he flung at the goat went into the small cave entrance.

He heard the sound of something cracking and called help.

Two Arab lads wriggled inside the cave and discovered one broken jar and other jars intact. In the unbroken jars they found several rolls of parchment.

Each Arab took four rolls. One sold his share to an antiquities dealer in Bethlehem, who resold them to the Hebrew University in Jerusalem. The other four were sold to the Monastery of St. Mark in Jerusalem, from where they were sent to the United States.

Professor E. L. Sukenik of the Hebrew University, who deciphered most of the scrolls, is sure they are authentic texts written during the second century B.C. Dr. O.R. Sellers and Dr. J. C. Trever of the American School of Oriental Research are also certain there can be no doubt as to the authenticity of the scrolls.

Such scholars of world-wide renown as Professor W. F. Albright and Professor Millar Burrows support this thesis.

Those experts believe the scrolls are genuine manuscripts dating back to the pre-Christian era. They claim that the script and style of writing are indisputably convincing when compared with other ancient documents.

Professor Solomon Zeitlin, editor of the scientific Jewish Quarterly Review, however, is quite sure that the scrolls date back only as far as the Middle Ages. As such, he contends, they have comparatively little value for either biblical scholars, historians, linguists or students of religion.

Some of the scrolls come from which had been sacked after the massacre of 80 Jews there in 1929, Zeitlin said.

Although he had no opportunity to study ancient scrolls in Hebron during his visit there in 1925, he believes they were all written in the Middle Ages.

He thinks the Arabs who stole the scrolls during the pillage of Hebron's Jewish quarter in 1929 got together with dealers in antiquities and staged the find to enhance the value of the manuscripts.

Consequently, Zeitlin urges the scholars to investigate the authenticity of the scrolls.

Rabbits Can Produce Quickly, But Possums Outshine Them

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (UP)—When it comes to multiplication, the vaunted, rapidly-reproducing rabbit can take a backseat to that old slowpoke of the woods, the oppossum.

The Missouri Conservation Commission can cite figures to prove that the possum can give Brer Rabbit a run for his money when it comes to producing young.

A mature cottontail rabbit produces a yearly average of about 17 young in four litters. The labor-saving possum may produce just as many young in a year and does it in only two batches.

The possum may be slow about most things, but the freakish little animal has the shortest gestation period of any North American mammal—only 12½ days. However, the time is lengthened a little because the young spend six to eight weeks in the mother's pouch.

At birth, young opposums are quite undeveloped and it would take 270 of the tiny creatures to make an ounce. They are so small that a litter of 16 would easily fit in a tablespoon.

The possum has many peculiarities not shared by fellow North American mammals. The American freak has a pouch similar to a kangaroo, a monkey-like prehensile tail, a grasping clawless thumb on the hind foot and more teeth than a dental laboratory window—50.

Although not possessing high grade, fur possums bring trappers in Missouri about one-sixth of their income. The hide isn't worth much—only 30 cents—but it is used in jackets, coats and trimming.

The possum will eat almost anything and conversely, almost anyone will eat a possum.

Baked, the omnivorous little mammal is a gourmet's delight to some. For this reason, the possum which weighs from four to 12 pounds and attains a length of about two and one half feet, seldom lives longer than eight years.

Possum hunting has almost become a national sport. The wily little rambler of the woods is found in almost every state.

Any dog, from the pedigreed to the cur, can tree a possum and bring home the bacon, or possum. There' a reason. The possum just isn't very bright.

In the early 1900's, a naturalist measured the brain capacity of a possum.

By pouring beans in a possum skull, he compared its thought equipment with that of a similar sized raccoon. The opposum's wit box held only 25 beans, while that of the raccoon measured 150 bean power.

Age Limit Up On Beginners In County Schools

The age limit of beginning students in the county school system will be raised this year in all districts except Beaver Local and New Waterford.

James L. McBride, superintendent of county schools, said 10 rural boards have adopted resolutions requiring that beginners be 6 years old by Nov. 1, 1951.

The State Department of Education favors advancing the entrance age date to Sept. 1. County schools likely will follow that plan in a year or two, McBride said.

The New Waterford board will continue the Jan. 1 limitation, which was in effect throughout the county last year, because its first grade class is small.

Beaver Local voted down the new rule, although its schools all have large beginners' classes this Fall.

Rail Freight Rate Jump May Start On Aug. 28

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP) — Higher railroad freight rates on everything but grain and grain products probably will go into effect Aug. 28.

The Interstate Commerce Commission three days ago authorized a boost in most rail freight rates of 9 per cent east of the Mississippi and north of the Potomac and 6 per cent elsewhere.

The I.C.C. made the 6 per cent raise effective nationally on grain and grain products. The commission stipulated the public should have 15 days prior notice.

This was amended yesterday to require 30 days' notice for the new grain schedules.

The Association of American Railroads said it was told the higher tariffs would be ready for public display Aug. 13. That would make the effective dates Sept. 12 for grains and grain products and Aug. 28 for other shipments.

Trolley, Bus Fare Boost Asked At Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 11 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Railways Co. yesterday announced it is asking the state Public Utility Commission for fare boosts effective Sept. 10.

The firm proposes the following increases:

Trolleys and feeder busses—a 2-cent increase in basic cash rates, making them 17 cents. Token fares to be 16 2-3 cents, sold three for 50 cents instead of the present four for 55 cents.

Through busses—a 3-cent boost in basic cash fares, making them 23 cents. The present 17½-cent ticket fare would be replaced by a 21-cent ticket sold five for $1.05.

President C. D. Palmer said previously that the company's labor costs were increased $1,250,000 annually when trolley and bus operators received wage boosts under an recent arbitration award.

$1,500,000 Loss Set In Texas Hail Storm

DALLAS, Tex., Aug. 11 (AP)—Vicious thunderstorms last night hit the south plains of Texas—one of the largest cotton-producing areas in the world—a $1,500,000 blow.

Hail damaged an estimated 12,000 acres of irrigated cotton, mostly in Hockley county.

Water ran hub deep to cars after a heavy downpour in Lubbock.

Elsewhere over Texas temperatures were slightly cooler than the 100-plus of the last two weeks of fiery heat. Most sections still need moisture for crops, pastures and in many places for city water supplies.

The high Texas temperature yesterday was 107 at Presidio in the Big Bend country.

Tito Thanks America For Aid In Dire Time

BRIONI, Yugoslavia, Aug. 11 (AP) —Marshal Tito formally thanked the United States last night for its aid in Yugoslavia's "hour of need".

At ceremonies here marking the end of the $100,000,000 American anti-starvation food assistance program, Tito also warned that Yugoslavia "must be cautious" against an invasion by the Russian-led Cominform this year.

Chatting jovially with representatives of the American press, Tito admitted that Yugoslavia, cut off from its former food supplies behind the iron curtain, may need more American aid soon.

This view was upheld by U.S. Ambassador George Allen, present at the ceremonies. Allen praised Yugoslavia's full and efficient cooperation in administering the aid program.

Cable Rusted, Not Cut, Power Probe Shows

By The Associated Press

Investigations have established that a parted cable at the Beech Bottom (W. Va.) plant of the Ohio Power Co. was not cut but rusted through, Brooke county Sheriff Richard Hogg said yesterday.

That is one of several company plants involved in a strike of the C.I.O. International Utility Workers of America, which is seeking wage increases.

The cable had been used to keep open a sluice gate at the plant. When the gate swung shut, a flood of water threatened to undermine a power line leading from the plant.

Hogg made his statement after the cable had been sent to Federal Bureau of Investigation laboratories.

Kansas Area Rocked As 200 Shells Explode

HAVILAND, Kan., Aug. 11 (AP)—A truckload of 105-millimeter shells caught fire near here yesterday.

More than 200 of the 500 shells exploded in a series of blasts that shook the area for miles.

No one was injured.

Ralph Reynolds of Louisville, Ky., was driving the truck. Another truck driver saw the rear wheels of Reynolds' truck aflame and flagged him down. Reynolds tried uncessfully to put out the flames, then fled to safety.

The blasts scattered parts of the truck and ammunition in a quarter-mile radius. A hole 15 feet in diameter and about six inches deep was torn in the pavement.

New French Cabinet Wins Confidence Vote

PARIS, Aug. 11 (AP) — Premier Rene Pleven and his new strongly conservative cabinet won what amounted to a vote of confidence today.

Pleven had presented his cabinet to President Vincent Auriol earlier after an all-night squabble over who would get what job.

France's worst cabinet crisis since World War Two ended in a breakfast-time meeting at the Elysee Palace during which the president served coffee instead of the traditional champagne to the new cabinet officers.

Across The Appalachian Trail

Buddies Find White Mountains Favorite Tourist Spot

Bill Hall of River Road and George Petyak of Park Ave. are crossing the White Mountains of New Hampshire, a popular tourist section, in their 2,000-mile trek from Maine to Georgia over the Appalachian Trail. Last week they told of emerging from Maine after covering 266 miles in 16 and a half days. In the following article they proceed into New Hampshire and find the Trail a little less rugged than at the start.

By BILL HALL

Gorham is a little tourist town at the edge of the White Mountains in New Hampshire, kept alive by the pocketbooks of vacationers who crave the aroma of fresh mountain air.

We whizzed through, taking time only to stop at a store for supplies and call at the post office. Soon we were scaling the heights of the Carter-Moriah Range.

"How long is this trail in New Hampshire?" George asked when we were about halfway up the side of old Mt. Moriah.

"About 150 miles," I replied. "Why?"

"Doesn't the Appalachian Mountain Club have huts where food can be bought every 15 miles or so?" he continued.

"Yes, they do. And you can sleep there all night if you wish," I said.

"Well, then, what are we carrying these heavy packs for!" he shouted. He dropped his to the ground, took out a toothbrush, camera, sleeping bag, notebook and extra socks, wrapped all these in his poncho, and announced he was ready to proceed.

"My pack horse days are over!" he yipped, bounding along with his eight-pound load.

"What about when we get out of the White Mountains? You'll need your pack then," I argued.

"I'll buy a new one at Hanover," he chirped and dashed happily down the trail.

I struggled, heaved and puffed up and over Moriah, and groaned, grunted and wheezed up, up, up the steep side of Mt. Carter. Once in a while I'd catch a glimpse of George's lightly-burdened figure, leaping from rock to rock, pausing to admire a view, and absolutely perspirationless.

Meanwhile, Old B. O. Kid Hall struggled on up the mountain.

But there came a glorious moment when George heard a heavy thump behind him, a swish of air, and me and my five-pound pack went flitting past!

—:—

THE FIRST HUT of the Appalachian Mountain Club chain is located in a deep ravine called Carter Notch. We climed Mama Carter, Papa Carter, and all the little Carters, but we couldn't find the blasted hut.

Night had fallen, and we still were stumbling around on a peak called Carter Dome. Stumbling around on a mountain is bad business anytime, but especially at night. You can't see ledge drop-offs or holes in the rocks.

Perhaps Review readers would like to send a word to Bill Hall and George Petyak in their four-monh trek over the Appalachians. If so, their next stop is Kent, Conn. Just address a card or letter to "Bill Hall, General Delivery, Kent, Conn." They'll sure be glad to get them!

Finally reaching the peak, we saw a faint light a mile or so below. "There it is!" cried George, and we went clumsily down the pitch-dark trail, outlined only by the trees along its edge.

An hour later, humped and bruised from a tumble or two, we pounded on the door of Carter Notch Cabin. The door turned out to be a window, and we had to go around the cabin and try again.

"Did you two goofers come down from Carter Dome in the dark!" the incredulous hut crew asked. "Sure," we said, "why not?"

"You can thank your lucky stars that you stayed on the trail," said the hutmaster. "Otherwise, you'd have dropped 150 feet into some old caves and would be there next Spring sometime."

At this point, I felt I ought to go to bed. Especially when I recalled that I'd started in the wrong direction, and George had called, "Hey, Bill, the trail's this way."

Yessir, no two ways about it. I was going to increase my guardian angel's salary.

—:—

WE CLIMBED the Wildcats and all the kittens, and came at last to Pinkham Notch, that mecca of tramping and skiing in the White Mountains presided over by the "Paul-Bunyon" of the Appalachian Mountain Club—Joe Dodge.

A friendly, affable giant, Roarin' Joe extends a hearty welcome to all who pass, and perhaps has done more toward developing the White Mountain region than any other man.

Working with some 50 hut boys and packers, Joe maintains a string of cabins, spaced a moderate day's journey apart, at which the "Goofer", as travelers are known to the boys, can find food and lodging.

These lads are all from 16 to 21. They keep house like a matron, turn out meals like a chef, exude hospitality like diplomats, and othewise make life bearable for Mr. and Mrs. Tourist.

As Joe's guests, we stayed overnight at Pinkham. About twilight, I heard someone say, "Oh, look! Three people are trying to climb Porky Gulch Cliff. No, wait! There goes a fourth person up."

Now Porky Gulch Cliff was a perpendicular slab of rock something over 150 feet high. A few cracks and narrow ledges afford holds, but climbing it was a job for an experienced rock climber with proper equipment, ropes, etc.

Looking idly at the distant cliff, I could see three small specks close together near the top, and one small speck about halfway up, zigzagging erratically across the face of the rock.

"Who are they?" I asked a fellow standing near-by, watching the climbers through field glasses.

"The three roped together at the top are Brooks Dodge, Joe's son, and two hut boys," he said. "But I don't know the fourth fellow. Looks a little like the guy who came in with you."

GEORGE!!! Oh, no! It couldn't be! Why he'd never been on a cliff in his life!

Snatching the glasses, I scanned the cliff. Sure enough, halfway up and going strong was my trailmate. No rope, no ax, no climbing shoes, nothing that a sensible rock climber should have.

Slowly he moved upward, miraculously finding hand and footholds in the sheer rock face. Forty feet from the top, the three climbers tossed him a rope and, now safely secured, he scaled the remaining wall and clambered over the edge.

I returned the glasses to the man and plopped into the nearest chair. "Egad," I thought, "what would I have done with the body?"

Individual Incomes Hit 251 Billion A Year

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP)—Incomes of individuals increased in June to a new record rate of $251,100,000,000 a year.

The Commerce Department, reporting this yesterday, said June personal incomes advanced $1,300,000,000 over May, on an annual rate basis, due chiefly to pay roll increases of $500,000,000 each in private industry and in the government.

Wage and salary receipts, up about 20 per cent since the Korean war began, moved to an annual rate of $166,100,000,000, with government pay rolls accounting for $28,800,000,000.

Interest and dividend receipts of stockholders and bondholders stayed unchanged from May to June, at a $20,200,000,000 annual rate. Income of owners of farms and unincorporated businesses, plus net rent receipts of landlords' rose by $200,000,000 to a $48,200,000,000 annual rate.

Transfer payments, consisting mainly of social security and veterans' benefits, including the G.I. insurance dividends now being paid, went up by $100,000,000, to a $12,800,000,000 annual rate.

Can't Take Draft Exam, Ohio Legislator Told

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP)—Selective service has refused Representative Ayres (R) of Ohio permission to take the college deferment examination.

The Ohioan made public yesterday a letter from Major General Lewis B. Hershey, selective service director, who said:

"It will not be possible to arrange for you to take the test, as it is prescribed for registrants only".

"Any deviation from this policy", Hershey continued, "would open the way to additional requests from non-eligibles to take the test."

Ayres had asked that he be allowed to take the exam "along with the prospective draftees".

He told a reporter at the time he hoped to find out "on what basis the examination proves that a man should be exempt from military service".

Lions Shown Movie On Free Enterprise

A film detailing the advantages of the American free enterprise system was shown at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Lions Club Friday noon at the Travelers Hotel.

Called "Letter to a Rebel", the story line had a newspaper editor writing a letter on the American heritage to his son, who had turned out a Red-tinged editorial for his college paper.

Introducing the film, George A. Shaw, program chairman, said that "thousands feel that we are so far to the left that we might wake up some morning under socialism". The film was furnished by the Small Business Economic Foundation of Chicago.

Harry Faulk, vice-president, announced the Board of Directors will meet Tuesday night at 8 at the home of John Covert on Princeton St. He said plans are progressing for a joint picnic with Midland, Chester and Newell Lions Aug. 22 at East Palestine City Park.

Depreciation

And Mileage

Play tricks with each other A car may depreciate one-fourth of its dollar value in the first year while only one-tenth of its useful life in mileage is being used up That is why the late model used car buyer gains so much He can get up to nine-tenths of a car's usefulness for only three-fourths of its original cost

Hemmed-In Driver Can Ask Damages, Justice Declares

NEW YORK, Aug 11 (UP) — A Municipal Court judge ruled yesterday that a motorist whose car was hemmed in by a double-parked automobile has the right to sue for damages

Justice Maurice Wahl cited a recent decision of the District of Columbia Court of Appeals upholding the right of riders to travel on streetcars and busses without being forced to listen to broadcasts

If a 'captive audience' has the right to make known its plight and pray for relief," he said 'so may a captive automobilist' "

Justice Wahl was ruling in a case brought by Hans Harnik, an attorney and his wife against Dr Samuel R Levine

They asked for nominal damages of $25 for "discomfort and inconvenience', but admitted the issue of damages was unimportant and what they wanted was a judicial declaration of civil liability

Rejecting Levine s motion for dismissal on the ground there was no cause of action Justice Wahl suggested that a motorist barred from moving his car by a double-parker might even sue to recover for false imprisonment

Court Test Due On Television Contempt Case

Senate Sticks To Its Citations Against Two Cleveland Men

WASHINGTON, Aug 11 (AP) — The right of the Senate crime investigating committee to require witnesses to testify in televised hearings is headed for a possible test in the criminal courts

By a 38-to-13 vote, the Senate yesterday stuck to its citations accusing two Cleveland witnesses of contempt of Congress for refusing to testify last March 26 at crime committee hearings

The hearings were covered by television, newsreels and radio as well as the press.

The committee plans to televise hearings here next week exploring New York underworld activities

A frequently bitter five-hour debate preceded the vote sustaining contempt citations against Morris Kleinman and Louis Rothkopf described by Senator Kefauver (D) of Tennessee, as members of one of the largest and most sinister criminal gangs in the United States"

Kleinman and Rothkopf refused to talk because they said, their constitutional rights were violated by TV, newsreel and radio broadcasting of the hearings

The Senate s vote sustained contempt citations originally voted against the two men March 30

The citations go now to the U S district attorney for submission to a federal grand jury

The witnesses' complaints against T V might figure in any grand jury decision Conviction of contempt of Congress is punishably by up to a year in jail and $1 000 in fines

Senator Cain (R) of Washington, leading a fight against the citations argued that gangsters or not, Kleinman and Rothkopf are American citizens whose constitutional rights were invaded by the televising of the hearings

Cain likened the televised hearings to a totalitarian people's court and blasted Kefauver for the manner in which he ran them as chairman

He contended it would be improper to charge the witnesses with contempt for refusing to take part in a "headline-hunting extravaganza '

Kefauver, in reply, said he was "sorry the junior senator from Washington has felt this should be turned into a personal attack on me '

The issue, he said, is whether "notorious criminals" had a right to "dictate to the Senate" and the committee the terms under which they would testify.

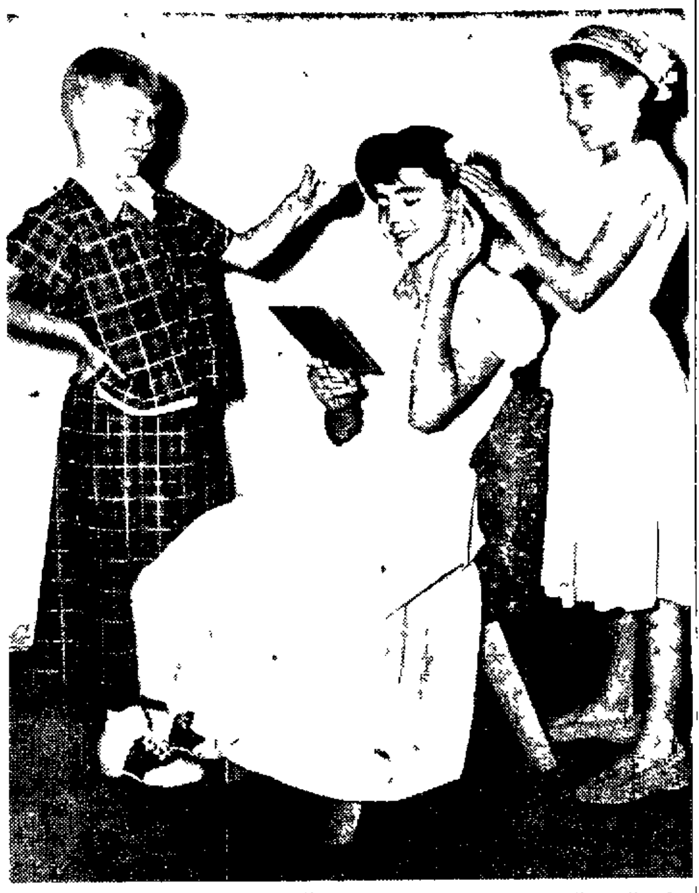
Masculine Uprising

Boys Will Be Girls!



There s a revolt afoot in the neighborhood of East Fourth St, where three boys—resentful of their sisters wearing their clothes — have pledged themselves to deck out in sis s attire until the girls take a hint and quit going masculine

The Glover boys are sons of Mr and Mrs William Glover, 707 East Fourth St and Lonnie is a son of Mr and Mrs Alpha Adkins 713 East Fourth St

Yes the boys got into their sister s makeup, too and they discovered what a job it is to get one s lipstick on straight Lonnie s kept getting smeared

These things aren t bad to wear once you re in them " admitted Bill, ' but it takes so long to get everything on "

Football and feminine finery don t mix very well so the boys have decided to switch back to jeans when they play

"The trouble with my three sisters, Izola, Betty and Inez wearing my clothes, ' explained Lonnie they pick out all my best things and I have to wear what s left '

"Yeah, ' chimed in John, ' and we get them back again all dirty and maybe ripped ' He and Bill have two sisters Betty and Doris, to ' borrow" their clothes

Try as he might chubby red-haired John who s all boy, can't look very feminine but delicate-featured Lonnie carries off his disguise perfectly—except when the legs of his jeans fall down'

Truman Plan For Scattering Plants Blasted

Legislators From Established Areas Hit Hard At Move

WASHINGTON Aug 11 (AP)—Members of Congress from established industrial areas bitterly protested today against President Truman s new plant dispersal policy

The President's aim is to spread the nation s industrial plants to make them less vulnerable to any enemy atomic attacks

But opponents argue that the dispersal will hobble rather than help defense preparedness by draining vitality from existing industrial regions and forcing costly population shifts

The administration has powerful means to enforce the disperaal policy—award of defense contracts, granting of defense loans, allocation of critical materials and other measures

As announced by Truman yesterday, the policy is to disperse new industry and expanding industry but not to interfere with established operating units No part of the country is to be built up at the expense of any other section, the President said

The most vehement objections were registered by New Englanders, whose representatives in Congress disregarded party lines and joined forces to defeat a similar dispersal provision in the economic controls legislation enacted last month

Representative Heselton (R) of Massachusetts termed the dispersal policy outrageous" He said 'an identical plan was cleanly defeated by a bipartisan majority of both chambers'

Representative Martin (R) of Massachusetts said ' Congress has indeed fallen to a low estate when the executive branch continually circumvents its wishes by subterfuge, indirection and outright defiance He accused the President of resorting to methods which have been the chief weapons of the dictatorships'

Martin, House minority leader, scoffed at reports that dispersal of plants within a marketing area of 10 or 20 miles was what the administration has in mind. He said it is clear that the intent is scattering industry to isolated areas

Senator Green (D) of Rhode Island who supports most administration policies, argued that concentrations of industries and people carry their own protection

"It is easier to protect compact industrial areas than to provide air and other defenses for scattered plants, since it is evident the enemy has the air power to reach any part of the country," he said.

Hemmed-In Driver Can Ask Damages, Justice Declares

NEW YORK, Aug. 11 (AP) — A Municipal Court judge ruled yesterday that a motorist whose car was hemmed in by a double-parked automobile has the right to sue for damages.

Justice Maurice Wahl cited a recent decision of the District of Columbia Court of Appeals upholding the right of riders to travel on streetcars and busses without being forced to listen to broadcasts.

"If a 'captive audience' has the right to make known its plight and pray for relief," he said, "so may a 'captive automobilist'."

Justice Wahl was ruling in a case brought by Hans Harnik, an attorney, and his wife, against Dr. Samuel R. Levine.

They asked for nominal damages of $25 for "discomfort and inconvenience", but admitted the issue of damages was unimportant and what they wanted was a judicial declaration of civil liability.

Rejecting Levine's motion for dismissal on the ground there was no cause of action, Justice Wahl suggested that a motorist barred from moving his car by a double-parker might even sue to recover for false imprisonment.

Court Test Due On Television Contempt Case

Senate Sticks To Its Citations Against Two Cleveland Men

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP) — The right of the Senate crime investigating committee to require witnesses to testify in televised hearings is headed for a possible test in the criminal courts.

By a 38-to-13 vote, the Senate yesterday stuck to its citations accusing two Cleveland witnesses of contempt of Congress for refusing to testify last March 26 at crime committee hearings.

The hearings were covered by television, newsreels and radio as well as the press.

The committee plans to televise hearings here next week exploring New York underworld activities.

A frequently bitter five-hour debate preceded the vote sustaining contempt citations against Morris Kleinman and Louis Rothkopf, described by Senator Kefauver (D) of Tennessee, as members of "one of the largest and most sinister criminal gangs in the United States".

Kleinman and Rothkopf refused to talk because, they said, their constitutional rights were violated by TV, newsreel and radio broadcasting of the hearings.

The Senate's vote sustained contempt citations originally voted against the two men March 30.

The citations go now to the U.S. district attorney for submission to a federal grand jury.

The witnesses' complaints against T. V. might figure in any grand jury decision. Conviction of contempt of Congress is punishably by up to a year in jail and $1,000 in fines

Senator Cain (R) of Washington, leading a fight against the citations, argued that gangsters or not, Kleinman and Rothkopf are American citizens whose constitutional rights were invaded by the televising of the hearings.

Cain likened the televised hearings to a totalitarian people's court and blasted Kefauver for the manner in which he ran them as chairman.

He contended it would be improper to charge the witnesses with contempt for refusing to take part in a "headline-hunting extravaganza".

Kefauver, in reply, said he was "sorry the junior senator from Washington has felt this should be turned into a personal attack on me"

The issue, he said, is whether "notorious criminals" had a right to "dictate to the Senate" and the committee the terms under which they would testify.

Masculine Uprising

Boys Will Be Girls!

There's a revolt afoot in the neighborhood of East Fourth St., where three boys—resentful of their sisters wearing their clothes — have pledged themselves to deck out in sis's attire until the girls take a hint and quit going masculine.

The Glover boys are sons of Mr. and Mrs William Glover, 707 East Fourth St, and Lonnie is a son of Mr. and Mrs Alpha Adkins, 713 East Fourth St.

Yes, the boys got into their sister's makeup, too, and they discovered what a job it is to get one's lipstick on straight. Lonnie's kept getting smeared.

"These things aren't bad to wear once you're in them," admitted Bill, "but it takes so long to get everything on"

Football and feminine finery don't mix very well, so the boys have decided to switch back to jeans when they play.

"The trouble with my three sisters, Izola, Betty and Inez wearing my clothes," explained Lonnie, "they pick out all my best things and I have to wear what's left."

"Yeah," chimed in John, "and we get them back again all dirty and maybe ripped." He and Bill have two sisters, Betty and Doris, to "borrow" their clothes.

Try as he might, chubby, red-haired John, who's all boy, can't look very feminine, but delicate-featured Lonnie carries off his disguise perfectly—except when the legs of his jeans fall down!

4 Area Teachers, Minister Given Degrees From Geneva

Four district school teachers, a Wellsville pastor and an East Palestine student were recipients of degrees from Geneva College at Beaver Falls at commencement exercises Friday night.

Awarded the Bachelor of Science Degree in Education were Mrs. Anna W Smith, 635 Blackmore St.; Mrs. Elinor C. Wood, 912 Montgomery Ave.; Mrs. Hilda Hendricks Steffen of Calcutta, and Mrs. Fred B Schubert, 957 Main St., Wellsville.

The Bachelor of Arts Degree went to Rev. Loren R. Carothers, 1120 Center Ave., Wellsville, and Richard E. Fruit, 113 Rebecca St., East Palestine.

The four women are teachers Mrs. Smith at Grant St., Mrs. Wood at Glenmoor, Mrs. Steffen at Calcutta, and Mrs Schubert at No. 16 School, near Wellsville. Rev. Carothers is pastor of the Evangelical United Brethren Church in Wellsville.

Mrs. Smith, Mrs Steffen and Mrs. Schubert attended Kent State University. Mrs. Steffen, the mother of four children, also has credits Wollaston, Mass, and Mrs. Schubert from Muskingum College, New Concord.

Rev. Carothers graduated from Circleville High School and attended Ohio State University.

Fruit, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Byron S Fruit of East Palestine, is a 1947 graduate of Harrison O. High School and was active in basketball and football at Geneva.

Stratojet Bomber Flies 2,800 Miles Nonstop

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP)—An Air Froce "stratojet" B-47 medium bomber has flown 2,800 miles nonstop at an average speed of 500 miles an hour

The flight Thursday—from Fairbanks, Alaska, to Wichita, Kan—set a new distance record for planes of this type.

The five-hour, 3-minute flight was made to test the B-47 and collect long-range cruise control data. The jet bomber has been described as the backbone of the U.S. medium bomber fleet.

Thursday's flight exceeded by 200 miles one made last May by a B-47 between Hawaii and California in five hours, 50 minutes.

A couple of tablespoons of chili sauce and two more tablespoons of finely-chopped watercress added to a half cup of French dressing give the dressing zest. It's good served over a hard-cooked egg salad.

Truman Plan For Scattering Plants Blasted

Legislators From Established Areas Hit Hard At Move

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP)—Members of Congress from established industrial areas bitterly protested today against President Truman's new plant dispersal policy.

The President's aim is to spread the nation's industrial plants to make them less vulnerable to any enemy atomic attacks.

But opponents argue that the dispersal will hobble rather than help defense preparedness by draining vitality from existing industrial regions and forcing costly population shifts.

The administration has powerful means to enforce the disperaal policy—award of defense contracts, granting of defense loans, allocation of critical materials and other measures.

As announced by Truman yesterday, the policy is to disperse new industry and expanding industry but not to interfere with established operating units. No part of the country is to be built up at the expense of any other section, the President said.

The most vehement objections were registered by New Englanders, whose representatives in Congress disregarded party lines and joined forces to defeat a similar dispersal provision in the economic controls legislation enacted last month.

Representative Heselton (R) of Massachusetts termed the dispersal policy "outrageous" He said "an identical plan was cleanly defeated by a bipartisan majority of both chambers".

Representative Martin (R) of Massachusetts said "Congress has indeed fallen to a low estate when the executive branch continually circumvents its wishes by subterfuge, indirection and outright defiance". He accused the President of resorting to "methods which have been the chief weapons of the dictatorships".

Martin, House minority leader, scoffed at reports that dispersal of plants within a marketing area of 10 or 20 miles was what the administration has in mind. He said it is clear that the intent is "scattering industry to isolated areas".

Senator Green (D) of Rhode Island, who supports most administration policies, argued that concentrations of industries and people carry their own protection.

"It is easier to protect compact industrial areas than to provide air and other defenses for scattered plants, since it is evident the enemy has the air power to reach any part of the country," he said.

Mr. and Mrs. John Rocchie of Weirton filed separate suits on behalf of their daughters, Mary, 11, and Ann, 12. A third suit was filed against the company by Mrs. Dominic Carmini who claims she suffered a broken leg in the crash.
